ditions of operators will have a tremendous and beneficial effect.

"Another serious trouble lies ahead. It is the excessive cost of building materials. The Oakland Chamber of Commerce committee has in an emphatic manner called this condition to the attention of manufacturers and wholesalers in the building material lines. Important building operations are held up pending an overdue cut in prices.

"Without much more delay the Chamber of Commerce committee will report that a substantial cut has been made or it will report the facts justifying the cut."

The committee of the Building Trades Council gave out the following statement:

"Due to the fact that the wage received by the material teamsters' organization of Alameda county at present complies with the award of the San Francisco arbitration board and represents a material reduction

Lloyd George Is Opposed as Head Of Delegation

By ED. L. KEEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, July 13.—Opposition to Premier Lloyd George as head of the British delegation to the Washington disarmament conference was growing today.

The premier's political enemies were marshaling their forces to forestall him from assuming the leadership.

In well-informed circles Arthur Balfour is being mentioned as possible chief of the British delegation.

under the prevailing scale in San Francisco, the committee representing the Building Trades Council and the Chamber of Commerce agreed and recommended that this craft do not undergo any further reduction in wages.

"It was agreed by the committee that should any occasion arise in the future requiring their services for a readjustment of conditions, they would immediately confer to meet the situation."

"The action regarding the memorandum of agreement was taken by the Alameda County Building Trades Council, feeling that the best interests of the entire community would be best conserved without awaiting any solution of this problem that might later be effected in San Francisco."

The Alameda County Building Trades Council was actuated in adopting this agreement by its desire to cooperate with all interests in the upbuilding of the community and the advancement of its enterprises."

President King of the Chamber of Commerce spent much of the morning laying the matter before the Builders' Exchange, and that organization called a meeting for 2 o'clock this afternoon to take action.

The successful negotiation of the agreement with the building trades results from conferences dating from the time of the American Federation of Labor convention in Denver. The Chamber of Commerce directors, at a special meeting on June 30, authorized the Robinson committee to use its best efforts to bring about an adjustment.

Harding Opposes Proposed Oil Duty

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee, announced to the House today he had received a letter from President Harding relating to the proposed tax on crude and fuel oils.

"I prefer to have this letter read to the House during consideration of the oil duties," Fordney stated.

It is understood that the President opposes the oil duties unless coupled with a provision permitting the waiving of the duties upon negotiation of commercial and trade agreements with Mexico. These negotiations now are in progress, according to report, and President Harding fears interference with them by imposition of an import duty on oils.

CITY OBJECTS TO SITE CHOSEN FOR BRIDGE TERMINAL

Committee Voices Desire for Traffic Needs.

sought to revive a discussion of the Allan Rush plan, calling for a huge span from Telegraph hill to Goat island, a plan which Modjeski and Davies discounted for the cost of the span, the probable objections of the war department, and the fact that the San Francisco terminus would not meet with approval.

"We are most certainly in favor of a bridge across the bay," Joseph E. Cahne, managing director of the Chamber of Commerce, said today at the meeting in San Francisco, "but we believe that the terminus should be in Oakland and where the traffic lines converge."

STAGY TRAFFIC WOULD BE DIVERTED FROM CITY.

The Oakland committee in its argument points out that the traffic brought to Oakland daily by stage lines is greater than that brought here by the railroads and that a large part of this would be deflected from the city if the terminus should be placed in Alameda or Bay Farm Island. It is also asserted that the change in the place suggested by the experts would call for an approach from this city which would mean the crossing of several railroad lines, the crossing of a drawbridge and another bridge crossing on the San Francisco side. That such a condition would not make for rapid transportation is an argument advanced.

Marston Campbell of Oakland is chairman of the local committee, which includes Senator Arthur H. Breed, Leon Gray, Walter Hesse, Joseph E. Cahne, I. H. Spiro and others. It is expected that the committee will call another meeting within a few days.

At a luncheon to be given Friday noon at Hotel Oakland the Hundred Per Cent club and guests will discuss the bridge proposal from the Oakland viewpoint. The club has invited the general public and expects that 500 or more will be present. Marston Campbell will be the speaker.

Japanese Jingoism Flayed By Advocate of Peace

TOKYO, June 23.—Several thousand Japanese listened this week to an address by Shunroku Shimada, speaker of the House of Representatives and a prominent Liberal, in which he attacked the policy of Japan in its foreign relations.

The meeting was held under the auspices of Japanese Christians, with the object of discussing means of improving the relations between Japan and the United States, and its organizers invited Dr. S. H. Wainwright, a prominent American missionary, to present his views.

Shimada declared that what he had to say was not pleasant to Japanese to hear nor for a Japanese to speak. He continued:

"But we must take account of our present position. We were one of the five great powers during European war, but we have succeeded in gaining it will since the war. The prejudice against us is not racial, for it is shared by the Chinese and the Americans. Our animosity to America on account of exclusion is not wholly just, for Canadian and Australian exclusion is more rigid than American exclusion. We have spent large sums of money in Siberia and sent an unwarranted number of soldiers in violation of our agreement with the United States, invading the U. S. will Siberia, while France and England and even the United States are seeking to establish trade relations with the Russian people."

SHODDY GOODS SHIPPED.

We have seemed to the Chinese, our age-long neighbors, to be taking advantage of them while the European nations were at war. We have sent out shoddy goods and done damage to our trade and we have awakened suspicion by appropriating so much for the army and navy and so little for education.

My object in saying these things is to lay the foundation for a broader and better national policy. We need to build up public opinion in Japan similar to the opinion now being created in the United States for the reduction of armaments for mutual good understanding between ourselves and other nations, especially between us and the United States, and for the encouragement of the interchanges of peace."

AMERICANS PEACEFUL.

It is extremely difficult to get the American people as a whole to cast a vote for war, so great is the sentiment for peace in that nation. This is shown in America's reluctance to enter the European war. Just such sentiment should be more diligently fostered in Japan, and it is my endeavor to strengthen national sentiment in favor of peace.

Rivalry between Japan and America in battleship building is the height of folly. Certainly Japan cannot keep step in such a race.

Dr. Wainwright said that presuppositions are important, for they influence life.

He went on:

It is better to presuppose peace

FORGED MESSAGE CHARGE LAID TO 'LEGION POLITICS'

Lennon to Appear Before the Investigators Tonight to Explain.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Assistant United States Attorney Thomas Lloyd Lennon, prior to his scheduled appearance before the American Legion investigating committee tonight, today reiterated his denials that he had anything to do with the sending of a forged telegram, which caused Charles H. Kendrick to be withdrawn from the race of post commander on the eve of a recent election.

Lennon stoutly maintains that "petty legion politics" are responsible for the tangle, and that he was "framed" by enemies incurred while member of an American Legion post in the southern part of the state.

Both Lennon, whose marriage was only made known when the investigation started, and his bride, are scheduled to appear before the Legion investigating committee tonight and make formal denial of the charges. The specific charge is that Lennon prevailed upon his wife, who was then in Chicago, to send a telegram, to which was signed Kendrick's name, to legion headquarters here, demanding that he be withdrawn from the election. This withdrawal, it is said, resulted in the election of Kendrick's rival for the office.

Immediately after the investigation started, Lennon telephoned his wife in Chicago and she left for this city to take part in the probe.

A committee of Legion members, composed of C. L. Straub, Rev. P. W. Clappett, Rev. Joseph McQuaide, W. W. Braithe and Russell Pierce, this morning interrogated Mrs. Lennon regarding the telegram.

Straub, who is chairman of the committee, today accused Lennon of breaking faith with the committee. "Lennon has broken faith with the committee in making public the story of the investigation," he said. "Every person who has been questioned regarding the story of the forged telegram has been pledged to secrecy. The committee at no time accused Lennon of anything that would call for such a denial as he uttered. There are many discrepancies in Lennon's published denial that will come out when the committee reports at the regular meeting of July 20."

New Carriages Will Make Baby Strong and Tough

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 13.—Baby perambulators, with frills and canopies, have gone out of style and the American baby is now riding in a carriage which will make it tough and strong. O. W. Siebert of Gardner, Mass., president of the Baby Vehicle Manufacturers' Association, told its convention today. "The American baby of today is athletic from birth," Siebert said. Baskets swinging from the inside rail of an automobile are fast coming into vogue, solving the problem of what to do with the baby on an automobile trip, Siebert said. Problems are going down, too, he said, so that the high cost of trundling the youngsters around will soon be much less than at present.

HARDING PRAISED BY VATICAN ORGAN

ROME, July 11 (By Associated Press).—The Osservatore Romano, the organ of the Vatican, today printed a semi-official note warmly congratulating President Harding on the initiative he has taken for an international conference on the limitation of armaments. The newspaper said: "It is not the first time the reduction of armaments has been talked of, but each time armaments are increased. President Harding's proposition is certainly made in perfect good faith."

Lawyers' Union Bill Goes to Referendum

SACRAMENTO, July 13.—The lawyers' union bill, introduced in the legislature by Senator E. P. Sample of San Diego, passed by that body and signed by the governor, was held up by referendum, according to an announcement of State Election Expert Charles Haggerty today. Sufficient signatures to hold up the measure were received Saturday, said Haggerty.

The measure prohibits banks and trust companies from giving legal advice to clients. The trust companies fought the measure throughout the recent session and started the circulation of petitions immediately after the bill had been signed by the governor.

STEEL MILL CUTS WAGES

LLOYD GEORGE'S UNFIT, IS VIEW OF NORTHCLIFFE

Publisher Declares Honesty Must Rule Proposed Conference.

By LLOYD ALLEN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, July 13.—"The most important thing to be observed in the disarmament conference is mutual confidence among the participating nations," Viscount Northcliffe, British publisher, declared in an interview with the United Press today. Without this, he said, the conference can be expected to accomplish nothing, and added:

"There must be straight, honest dealing, free from any kind of maneuvering."

Northcliffe was asked for his opinion of the conference and reports that the American Government had intended to withhold the invitation for a short time, but was forced to capitulate to the League of Nations maneuvers in the London foreign office.

"President Harding's invitation is a great call from a great man in the chief powers of the world to join America in finding means to safeguard peace in the world," he said. "It should be accepted everywhere in the most grateful and helpful spirit."

BRITISH MANEUVERS

"As to the story of maneuvers in the British foreign office, I am afraid it is substantially true. Politicians who now manage our foreign affairs seem to have thought the President's original suggestion a fine opening for bolstering up their shaky coalition cabinet. So, after the prime minister had said in his first speech to the House of Commons that he would like to see Britain would gladly discuss any proposal for disarmament that America might make, somebody seems to have got busy and tried to jump the President's claim."

"I do not know who suggested to Lord Curzon last week that he should hold conversations with the American and Japanese ambassadors and the Chinese minister, nor who prompted Lloyd George to say last Thursday that that action was not to be taken until the British had heard from America, Japan and China before saying anything on the Anglo-Japanese alliance. But I do know that whoever was responsible for that action is not fit to handle a delicate and dangerous matter that may involve the peace of the world."

CAUSES ASTONISHMENT

"My information from the United States makes me think these maneuvers caused some little astonishment at Washington. I am not surprised at it."

"To make things worse, somebody seems to have informed the British government that Harding and Hughes would welcome a British initiative in issuing invitations to a Pacific conference. Whoever did it cannot have had the faintest conception of the true position."

"Britain, to some extent, is disqualified for such an initiative, simply because she is an ally of Japan and independent action she might take would necessarily cause suspicion among the other powers."

"Now, the one thing to be avoided in connection with these conferences is suspicion. There must be straight, honest dealing, free from any kind of maneuvering."

"That is why I regret that Lloyd George's statement on President Harding's proposals in common Monday, was not more generous. It seemed to me a little grudging, and inspired by a wish to get some of the credit for the conference for British imperial statesmen, of which he is chairman."

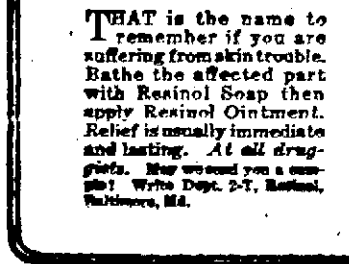

OPPOSES LLOYD GEORGE

"I am very proud of our dominions' statesmen and they will get every kind of credit if they can help turn the Pacific ocean into a really peaceful highway for the nations. That is why I regret also attempts made yesterday in government organs to put forward Lloyd George as a British delegate to the Washington conference. Lloyd George is admired in England for his magnetic qualities but he is not admired as a peace negotiator."

WAGE CUT MADE BY METAL TRADES

A new wage schedule drafted by the California Metal Trades Association for its entire membership of one hundred factories, foundries and shipbuilding plants will go into effect at the Union Construction Company on August 1. It contemplates a 10 per cent reduction in wages, made necessary, the company says, by the reduced cost of living and the necessity for meeting eastern competition. Announcement of the decision has been made to the workers' council of the plant, with an explanation that the reduction was to be varied with the purpose of equalization and that the average cut would be 10 per cent. Members of the council were told that the Metal Trades Association for more than a year has considered the

Miller Left 39 Millions, Claim In U. S. Suit

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—A hearing to determine the exact valuation of the Henry Miller estate will be held beginning August 1. Miller heirs will contend that the property is worth only $20,000,000, while the government, through Assistant United States Attorney E. M. Leonard, holds that the property, at a conservative estimate, is valued at $39,000,000. Miller heirs have already paid $2,500,000 in inheritance tax under protest. The government claims that the estate still owes $3,000,000 to the government.

Chicago Dark As Power Men Strike

CHICAGO, July 13.—Chicagoans groped their way through darkened streets last night as the result of a strike of city electricians for higher wages, while 8000 policemen and firemen were held in reserve to prevent an outbreak of crime or disorder. Practically every street in the city was in darkness. The first effect was a slowing up of transportation and the congestion of vehicular traffic at street intersections. The only illumination in the business district was supplied by lights within office buildings, by store windows and electric signs.

Third Victim of Madman Is Struck With Gaspipe While Taking Stroll.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Bloodhounds were employed today to track a supposed maniac in Golden Gate park, after attacks with a gaspipe on three park visitors and the death of one of the victims as a result. The third to be attacked is Mrs. Fred Smith, 40, a nurse, who told the police she was struck with a gaspipe. She fought and screamed until the assailant was frightened away.

Some months ago Miss Alice Bybee, a Fresno girl, was shot and killed by a mysterious stranger, who leaped from the brush of a small park near the Golden Gate park entrance. The police are of the opinion that the Golden Gate park suspect may be the one who killed Miss Bybee.

Immediately after the police had been notified of the attack last night upon Mrs. Smith, squads of detectives and patrolmen were thrown about the park and made a thorough search of the vicinity, but were unable to find any trace of the believed madman. With the exception of the kind of hat worn, he answers the description of the man who attacked the two men, almost minutely.

Mrs. Smith told police that she was walking along a footpath leading from Fulton street toward the reservoir at Grove and Stanyan streets when her assailant crept out from a clump of bushes and grappled with her. The woman struggled with her assailant, who then struck her over the head with a piece of lead pipe.

Mrs. Smith's screams frightened the fiend and he fled into the undergrowth of bushes from which he appeared.

The woman rushed to her home, which was only a short distance from the scene of the attack, and reported the case to the park police. A posse was immediately organized and several blocks in the vicinity of the attack were gone over carefully by the officers, but no clew was found.

The "Midnight Maniac" is described as being 35 years of age, large of stature, wearing a soft dark hat, a blue suit, a red necktie and a dirty collar. He was last night struck down the man who for the past few days has been terrorizing the park district.

According to police there is no question but that he is the same man who beat Thomas Morgan of the Hotel West, 156 Third street, and Thomas Page Pyke, 636 Ashbury street. Morgan died of the beating he received at the hands of the madman.

LAWYER TELLS HOW HUSH MONEY PAID

By J. J. ROWLANDS,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
BOSTON, Mass., July 13.—David Stoneham, attorney, described to the Supreme court here today a conference of Boston and New York movie magnates, where it was decided the "cheapest and easiest way out" of the Mishawum Manor midnight was to pay over $100,000 to the "Squawkers."

At the conference, held in New London, Conn., July 2, 1917, Hiram Abrams gave a check for $52,250, a note for $25,000 and 500 shares of the Famous Players-Lasky Company, together with another note for $7750. Stoneham declared. He said he brought the money to Boston.

The day following Stoneham said, he called on Daniel H. Coakley, a Boston attorney, and gave him a personal check for $32,750 and Hiram Abrams' note for $52,250.

This money, he said, was to be used to "settle any claims" growing out of the "Brownie Kennedy" Mishawum Manor affair.

Stoneham told of various conferences in which Hiram Abrams, Adolph Zukor, Jess Lasky, Golden Walter Greengard and Harry Asher discussed the best method of avoiding publicity. He said it was unanimously agreed the matter should be adjusted speedily and it was decided to collect $100,000 as the amount of final settlement.

Carnation Home Cooking Lessons

Conducted by Mrs. Mary Blake

These lessons on milk cookery will appear weekly. Mrs. Blake's counsel will be helpful and stimulating, because of her practical experience in home cooking. She will answer any question on cookery asked by her readers. Address Mrs. Mary Blake, care Carnation Milk Products Co., of California, 49 Main Street, San Francisco.

LESSON FIVE

Dishes that Men Like

Macaroni with Cheese
One-half pound macaroni, 4 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup Carnation Milk, 1 cup water, 1/2 pound cheese. Break macaroni in small pieces and cook in boiling water until tender. Make white sauce (for recipe see Lesson Three), grate cheese and stir into the white sauce until melted. Drain the macaroni, mix it with white sauce, put into baking dish, and cover with bread crumbs. Brown in oven.

A Man's Dessert
Listen to a man order dessert in a restaurant. Nine times out of ten it will be the magic formula: Apple pie a la mode. Take your cue from the man. Treat him to his favorite at home. It is easy to make even in summer time. Make your ice cream the day before, your pie in the morning. If the "head of the house" likes his pie hot, place it in the oven a few minutes before serving (the recipe for Carnation Ice Cream—twice as rich as when made with ordinary milk—was given in Lesson Two). When ready to serve place portion of ice cream on each piece of pie.

Potatoes Au Gratin
Potatoes, salt, pepper, cheese, thin white sauce, butter and bread crumbs form the ingredients. Slice the potatoes and season with salt and pepper. Grease baking dish and put in a layer of potatoes, small pieces of cheese and thin white sauce. (For recipe see Lesson Three.) Alternate these layers until baking dish is full. Sprinkle top with cracker or bread crumbs, dot with butter, and bake slowly for about 45 minutes.

Creamed Baked Potatoes
Baked potatoes are good nourishing food always popular with men folk. They have much food value but lack in richness. You can supply this element and increase their deliciousness by serving with Carnation. Pour the milk right from the can into the potato broken open leaf-fashion. It requires less butter this way, and has a rich creaminess that men like.

Spaghetti or macaroni cooked with cheese always makes a hit with a man of healthy appetite. It is very tasty prepared this way:

(City and paste this lesson in your cook book. If you have missed any previous lesson, I will be glad to send it to you on request.)

Individualism, Topic Of State Teachers

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—"Justifiable individualism" was the first subject to engross the attention of the southern section of the High School Teachers' Association of California at its second and final day of its ninth annual meeting here yesterday. Frank Wilson Blackmar, dean of the graduate school of the University of Kansas, was the speaker. The literature of the Bible was the topic of George H. MacMillan of the California Institute of Technology, and round table discussions were planned for the afternoon session. The project method of secondary education, the overhead program for building citizenship, the problems and achievements of secondary schools and the social functions of high schools were the themes for these conferences.

Word was received here today from Walter I. Clarke, director of publicity for the Presbyterian church in the United States, with headquarters in New York city, that Charles Scanlon, secretary of the board of temperance of the Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, Pa., has been appointed by President Harding as one of the ten delegates to represent the United States in the sixteenth session of the International Congress against Alcoholism, which will meet in Lausanne, Switzerland, August 22-27, this year. CUPID'S RECORD IN JUNE IS BEST YET FOR STATE

SACRAMENTO, July 13.—Dan Cupid broke all previous records in California for marriages during the month of June. A total of 6482, according to estimates based on returns from the various counties of the state, just made public by L. E. Ross, director of the bureau of vital statistics of the board of health. This exceeds the previous record made in June, 1920, of 6174 marriages. Basing his conclusions on returns for the first five months of the year Ross estimates that there will be over 1000 more marriages in California this year than in 1920. The figures for the first five months of this year show a total of 22,567, as compared with 22,040 for the same period of 1920, or 527 more. Marriages for the first five months of 1920 were given as follows: January, 3418; February, 2120; March, 2999; April, 3662; May, 3417; June, 5418. For the first five months of 1921 the figures are: January, 3588; February, 3159; March, 3446; April, 3786; May, 3486 (estimated); June, 6482 (estimated).

Rainbow Division To Hold Annual Meet

CLEVELAND, O., July 13.—The Rainbow Division, one of the most famous American divisions that participated in the World War, will open its second annual convention here tomorrow. Several thousand are expected to attend the three-day event. The Cleveland Chapter will entertain 25 wounded Rainbow men still in hospitals. The division was recruited from 25 states. The infantry regiments came from New York, Ohio, Alabama and Iowa, the artillery from Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota. After three months of intensive training in France the men went into the trenches near Meuse. From then on it was continuous heavy fighting and hardships at Champagne where the division was a stone wall against the great German offensive, from there to Chateau-Thierry, silent and then followed St. Mihiel, where in two days over 2000 prisoners were taken. The division was engaged in two important phases of the great Argonne-Meuse offensive and finally ended up at Sedan on November 7.

Send us immediately a detailed report of your conduct so that proper disposition of your case might be made."

MAN DIES FROM POLICEMAN'S SHOT

Joseph Suppo, a laborer, who was shot Tuesday night by Policeman Charles Nightingale while resisting arrest, died this morning in the county hospital following an operation. The shooting took place in the front yard of the home of Suppo at 710 Eighth street. Nightingale went to the home of Suppo following a shot which was fired at him by a small boy who said that Suppo and his wife had mistreated him. When Nightingale went to the house he was in civilian clothes and posed as a sailor. The two men at first refused to talk to him. He showed them his star and questioned them about the shooting. Nightingale's report both men attacked him when he placed them under arrest. Both men, the officer says, took several punches at him and when he was unable to fight the two men he drew his revolver and fired one shot which struck Suppo in the hip. After the shot was fired Suppo stopped firing and was placed under arrest. Suppo was taken to the emergency hospital and later removed to the county hospital where he died.

Crime Decrease Is Credited to Dry Law

CHICAGO, July 13.—Police statistics tending to show a reduction of crime since the enactment of prohibition are being issued today by the committee on public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church. From June 30, 1918, to June 30, 1920, the year of prohibition, 39,244 persons were arrested in Louisville, Ky., on a charge of drunkenness. In the succeeding year, under prohibition, only 412 arrests were made on the charge. In the last wet year 256 persons were arrested on robbery charges while the figure in the first dry year was only 72. "During prohibition fell off 81.5 per cent in the first year."

Total arrests for drunkenness in Peoria, Ill., in the last wet year were 1750; first dry year 298. Total arrests in Peoria for all causes last year 5566; first dry year, 2937. In Cincinnati assault and battery charges dropped from 772 to 658; murder from 38 to 7 and disorderly conduct from 3220 to 127 in the first year of prohibition.

Farm Labor Supply Reported Plentiful

DURHAM, N. H., July 13.—The farm labor situation in New England, critical during the past few years, appears relieved so far as the supply is concerned.

Harry C. Woodworth, farm management specialist of the state college of extension service, reporting on data furnished by the Hampshire farm boys, says about 85 per cent had more labor available than last year and 90 per cent stated they would need no more help than in 1920. Farm boys in the state reported an increase from 7 to 12 per cent. Of 1500 men employed by the month on the New Hampshire farms reporting the average wage was $3.47 and one boarder. In the case of married men means cash wages and house, garden, milk, wood for fuel and other privileges. Of 77 men hired by the day the average wage was $3.10 with dinner.

Big Grecian Victory Predicted By General

SMYRNA, July 13. (By Associated Press).—A complete victory of the Hellenic arms over the Kemalists of Turkey in the next offensive was predicted today by Major General Anastasios Papoulas, the Commander-in-Chief of the Greek forces in Anatolia.

His army, he declared, had been enormously strengthened since the repulse at Eskişehir, and only by pure chance could the Turks now be successful. He further stated that his troops outnumbered the Kemalists by almost three to one, and that his army was so mobile that it could attack at any point along the 500-kilometer front.

DAILY OAKLAND TRIBUNE

Uncle Wiggily STORIES

"Ker choo!" sneezed the Gator
UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE DANDELION TEA.

One morning Uncle Wiggily was feeling so spry and gay, his rheumatism not hurting him at all, that he was walking down his hollow stump bungalow, he slid down the banisters.

"Hello, Nurse Jane! Here I am! All ready for breakfast," cried the bunny rabbit, hopping out of the kitchen. But to Uncle Wiggily's surprise, there was no breakfast for him. The table wasn't set and Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzie wasn't bustling around, frying the pancakes.

"Dear me!" thought Uncle Wiggily to himself, "as he looked around the kitchen. 'Something must be the matter! Either the muskrat lady housekeeper has gotten up extra early and gone for a walk, or else she isn't out of bed yet. I must find out.'"

So he called up the back stair: "Oh, don't worry about my breakfast," quickly said the kind rabbit. "Yes," came a faint and sad voice in answer. "I have been up this morning."

"Oh, don't worry about my headache," quickly said the kind rabbit gentleman, "I will bring you some tea and polly if necessary. But tell me what I can give you to stop that headache?"

"If I had a little dandelion tea, I think it would make me better," sighed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "If you could go out in the fields and pick a few of the yellow dandelion flowers, and bring them back to me, I would be very glad to drink that," said Nurse Jane.

"It shall be done as you desire," spoke the bunny gentleman, "I will go to the fields and pick a few of the yellow dandelion flowers, and bring them back to me, I would be very glad to drink that," said Nurse Jane.

"Uncle Wiggily got his own breakfast, and then he went to the fields and picked a few of the yellow dandelion flowers, and brought them back to me, I would be very glad to drink that," said Nurse Jane.

"Don't pick any of the fluffy putty dandelions," called Nurse Jane, "they are going to seed. Bring only the bright yellow blossoms."

"I'll do that," promised Mr. Longears. Over the fields he hopped, and through the woods but, for some reason or other, he could find no yellow dandelions growing near his bungalow. He hoped to find a few in the fields next to the woods.

Holding a Husband

Adele Garrison's New Phase
REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

WHAT MADGE FELT SHE OWED MAJOR GRANTLAND. It is an extremely rare thing for Hugh Grantland to betray emotion of any kind, no matter how strong his feeling may be. And it is next to impossible to surprise him. His keen brain usually has the mental processes and probable movements of the person with whom he is dealing "down to a hair," in the homely parlance.

But I think that for once he had utterly failed in his deductions. He evidently expected that I would immediately grant his request to give him Grace Draper's letter, and when the seconds went by and I made no movement to place it in his outstretched hand, I saw the lines around his mouth tighten, his eyes glint, and with amazement glimpsed a slow flush of ugly brick-red covering the bronze of his face.

I hastened into speech to redeem my seeming discourtesy. "Please pardon me, Major Grantland," I said slowly, "but there are reasons why I cannot give you that letter. It is, however, perfectly harmless—there is no threat whatsoever contained in it—and I beg of you not to visit any punishment upon this man for bringing it. He has been most courteous."

He stood irresolute for a moment, then shot a gruff command over his shoulder. "Go into the tea room and wait for me, Oh, Miss Kane!"

As he called, he stepped to the closed door of the tea room, and knocked lightly. I heard the whirr of the muskrat lady's chair, and the next minute the door was pushed open and Betty Kane was looking at us with bright, inquiring eyes, in which there was a touch of anxiety.

"Have your guests all gone?" Evidently Hugh Grantland was one of the initiated, who knew better than to call the people who came to the little tea room "customers."

"Yes, I am all alone, and I have closed the place for the day," "Good! Then will you let this man stay in the tea room with you for a while? He will not inconvenience you."

"No, indeed! Come, Tim," "She turned her chair and went back into the other room, Tim, rather cheerfully, following her. As the door swung to behind him, Major Grantland turned to me.

"You say this letter contains no threat," he asked.

"It is a friendly letter, then," he asserted, as if to himself, then his face hardened.

"Has that woman dared to send you a plan for forgiveness?" he demanded savagely, and I was conscious that he was watching me narrowly.

The COUNTRY of UPSIDE DOWN

By Jack Burroughs

Chapter 25

The Alphabetical Family

BY this time a great crowd had gathered and when the firemen had finished singing their chorus their audience insisted upon a repetition of the song.

"I knew it!" Then his eyes narrowed, and he studied me for a long minute before speaking again. There was no element of triumph in his voice now, nothing but grave anxiety.

GRANTLAND'S SELF-CONTROL. "Of—course—I—have—no—right—," he said slowly, "to ask your confidence, but I fear that your charity and forgiveness will lead you into grave error if you are not advised by some one whose blood runs colder than yours."

I gave a little start. "My charity and forgiveness?" They were the exact words used by Grace Draper in her plea for pardon at my hands. Strange that within a few minutes I should be urged by one person to use these qualities so extravagantly attributed to me, and by another to hold them in check.

There were more important things waiting my attention, however, the coincidence of words, and one of them was the unconsciously wistful and wounded note in Hugh Grantland's voice when he said that he had no right to ask my confidence. I owed him an explanation, and I braced myself to make it.

"You have every right to ask my confidence, Major Grantland," I said slowly. "The right of friendship, which I value very highly. And if it were possible for me to show you this letter I would give it to you instantly. But I feel, rightly or wrongly, that this matter is one which must be between myself and but one other person—my husband."

He winced as if I had struck him a blow. I saw it distinctly. But the next instant he had adjusted his iron mask again.

"A very natural decision," he assented formally. "But as I fear that he will be inclined to be as magnanimous in this case as you are, I must rise to your displeasure once more by adjuring you to have nothing whatever to do with Grace Draper and, above all things, to keep her away from my vicinity. Not that she will get much of a chance for that," he added grimly.

And I realized with a curious little thrill that even though I had denied him any confidence concerning the letter he meant still to watch over me.

It was not until after Hugh Grantland had left the tea room, taking with him the man named "Tim," not until I myself had taken farewell of Betty Kane, and was walking down the pine-bordered road—that there came to me the possible significance in one of the sentences of the official last appeal to me to disregard Grace Draper's appeal for pardon.

Just Folks

GOOD BUSINESS

If I possessed a shop or store, I'd drive the grouchies off my floor; I'd never let some gloomy guy offend the folks who came to buy; I'd never keep a boy or clerk with mental toothache at his work. Nor let a man who draws my pay drive customers of mine away.

I'd treat the man who takes my time, And spends a nickel or a dime, To courtesy and make him feel That I was pleased to close the deal. Because tomorrow, who can tell, He may want stuff I have to sell, And in that case then glad he'll be To spend his dollars all with me.

The reason people pass one door To patronize another place Is not because the latter place Has better silks or gloves or lace, Or cheaper prices, but it lies In pleasant words and smiling eyes. The only difference, I believe, Is in the treatment folks receive.

It is good business to be fair, To give the best and cheerful air About the place, and not to show Your customers how much you know; Whatever your patron did, I'd try to keep my temper high, And never let him spread along The word that I had done him wrong.

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

By EDGAR A. GUEST

GOOD BUSINESS

Gone are those simple days when good was good and bad was bad and we got a licking if we stole the jam. Nowadays if you steal the jam they immediately examine your tonsils. X-ray your teeth, take your blood pressure, determine the amount of protoids you consumed for lunch during adolescence analyze the condition of your grandfather's liver, apply the Benet test, and then you are free to go to the number of white corpuscles in the blood clearly indicate that you weren't to blame anyway. Which is fine for the criminals, but hard for the jam owners.

Now I'm naturally disposed to ease the lot of criminals—for the jam is no telling what. Now for myself. But I do think we're going a little too far with all this analyzing and theorizing. Teeth, tonsils and hookworms may be responsible for a certain amount of moral peevishness, but it's also well to remember that a vast amount of crime is due to the desire to get pleasantness without working for it—from plain, old-fashioned laziness.

Time was when the lazy chap got a kick and got it quick. Now he comes nearer to getting a medal from the Society for Psychic Research. But this hasn't changed the day out of the seven in which to work. But it is extremely doubtful if the other fellow has the slightest right to dictate to him what form that rest should take. For you, Friend, the "quiet Sabbath of Pennsylvania" meant genuine pleasure and refreshment for many others it would mean utter boredom. The Sunday baseball game has made a kinder workman and father of case with the Sunday bath at the bathing resort has ruled out many a family after a weary week. It is not possible for most working people to go to ball games or bathing resorts or into the country during the six working days of the week. Would you, then, to satisfy the scruples of the minority, shut out the majority from open air enjoyment possible for the laboring masses? I am one of those laboring masses. Pal, I know what I am talking about. I work what a typewriter does and during the week, with the call of the big outdoors haunting my heart and ears. Am I then to be denied chance to get to that outdoors by the cars on Sunday because of the scruples of a minority? Sunday violates the code of a certain few?

The government of this country is not a dread Moloch to which we must bow down unthinkingly. It is a country for free men, not for a wish of free men. If the laws do not express the desires of the majority, THEY SHOULD NOT EXIST. You have just seen the laws up heaved of governments ruled by minorities.

If in any trade laborers are forced to work seven days without rest, there should be no demand for reformation. Despite your exceptions to the contrary, you will most assuredly find, however, that MOST OF THE LABORING CLASSES WANT REST AND OBTAINS ONE REST DAY OUT OF SEVEN. As long as people must travel, as long as crops must be gathered, as long as a million things must be done, the laws of this country must be altered to it would be almost impossible, and it seems to me most disastrous to try to force all people to take their rest on the same day and in the same way.

A Personal Word

TO WOULD-BE PEACEMAKER. —Sorry to be late in answering, Pal, but the mails have been unusually busy and I haven't had time to write. I am sorry, but I am sure that your letter, my sympathies are all with the husband in the case. I certainly do NOT think him "unreasonably jealous or unduly demanding" that she discontinue her incessant visits with her cousin. This malevolent excuse is so flimsy an alibi for advising that it isn't worthy of serious consideration. The husband of a man who is willing to do his duty by her, HER PLACE IS AT HOME. Naturally she would wish to grow up, other forces will little. One part of her trouble is a common one. There are too many people willing to help her carry her burdens. If she had to face the results of her decisions all alone, she might develop a mind and spine.

WORRIED, Richmond. I am sorry friend, that I can't answer your letter sooner, and now that I have it before me, I am not sure that I know how to help you. The children are the future. Their good training and teaching will make the world a better place to live in during the next generation, and to them should be given every opportunity for advancement. The environment of your kiddies should be of the best and if their mother can't give it to them, it seems to me that you should take them away from her. That sounds cruel, but if the training you have told me are true, she is certainly not fit to train them. You owe them a clean and happy start in life, regardless of what they make for themselves later on. I hope this helps.

34,189 FARMERS IN CALIFORNIA, FOREIGN WHITES

Italians Compose Larger Portion of State's Agriculturalists of Alien Birth.

California has 34,189 foreign-born white farmers out of the 531,054 in the country, according to figures released today by the Bureau of Census in Washington. The census defines a farmer as a farm owner, the number of farmers, therefore, being the same as the number of farms. The figures, based on the 1920 census, show that foreign-born white farmers in the United States last year represent a decrease of $3,502, or 13.2 per cent, as compared with the total number of 669,556 in 1910.

White farmers born outside the United States constituted 9 per cent of the total number of farmers in the country in 1920, as against 10.3 per cent in 1910.

Of the foreign-born white farmers in California, Italy contributes the largest number to the ranks with a total of 4,458. Germany comes next with 4,189, followed by Canada with 2,461.

Foreign-born farmers are most numerous in the North and West states, although there are considerable numbers in the Pacific states, and a relatively high proportion of the total number of farmers in some of the Eastern states are foreign-born. There are very few foreign-born farmers in the South, except in Texas.

The states reporting the largest number of foreign-born white farmers in 1920 were as follows: Minnesota, 67,805; Wisconsin, 53,938; Michigan, 48,264; North Dakota, 36,248; and Iowa, 32,231. In Minnesota the foreign-born white farmers formed 37.7 per cent of all farmers in 1920; in Wisconsin, 28.5 per cent; in Michigan, 24.5 per cent; in North Dakota, 46.7 per cent, and in Iowa, 15.1 per cent.

Miss Kroll Sets Date for Nuptials

Among the first of the August brides will be Miss Ruth Evelyn Kroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick Kroll of Kings-ton avenue, who will plight her troth to John Bradburne Mackinlay of Santa Barbara Wednesday evening, August 19. The ceremony will be performed in St. Paul's Episcopal church, with only the immediate members of the two families as guests. Miss Kroll has not as yet named her attendants. Within a fortnight several smart affairs will be given in compliment to her. The betrothal of Miss Kroll and John Mackinlay was announced some time ago at an informal tea for Miss Abby Edwards of Santa Barbara. The bride-elect returned recently from Santa Barbara, where she was the guest of her fiancé's mother.

Just a week previous to Miss Kroll's wedding will be that of Miss Catherine Crellin and Dr. Lloyd Robertson Reynolds, at the Claremont country club. It, too, will be an evening ceremony. Mrs. George Perry Grit, Jr., sister of the bride-to-be, is visiting here from Los Angeles, and is just now the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Arthur Crellin, at their attractive summer home at Ben Lomond.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Suto have returned from Del Monte, where they have been sojourning, and in a few days will leave for a camping trip in the northern part of the state.

Eastbay friends today were apprised of the betrothal of Owen Tuttle Schloss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Schloss of Berkeley, and Miss Martha Ewing Rung of Long Beach. Informally to her friends the bride-elect broke the news last Saturday in the southern city. Miss Rung is a southern belle formerly making her home in Texas, where she was educated in private schools. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rung of Long Beach.

Mrs. Schloss was former president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. Schloss Jr. is a brother of Mrs. Ernest Hadden of Berkeley and of Lynn Schloss. He is a member of the class of '23, University of California, and a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity. He served with the Marines two years during the war.

The wedding will be in the fall.

RECEPTION FOR DEBUTANTE SET.

Hosts at a reception for the debutante set at Brookdale last week were Arthur C. Adams, Shelby E. Hodapp, Walter Hildebrand of Honolulu and Marc Butterbaugh of Harvard, the affair being given at the beautiful home of Mrs. A. L. Adams on Huckleberry Island. Among the guests were the Misses Ruth Rowley, Edith High, Billie Bolt, Florence Mackie, Gertrude Bosworth, Adelaide Griffith, Elizabeth Breed, Florence C. Breed, Janice Kegan, J. J. Hodge, Jr., Steven Willmans, Cecil Burg, Richard Van Horn, Abe Leach, Cullum S. Hodapp and Horace Breed. Receiving were the Misses Gertrude Bosworth, Adelaide Griffith and Billie Bolt. A college trio furnished the music for the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Painter have opened their home in Grand street, Alameda, as they have returned from the summer months from San Francisco, where they have been established at one of the larger hostels.

Mrs. Lillian Brown Everts and her sister, Miss Florin Brown, have chosen another recreation spot this season and are in British Columbia for the summer. They are making a leisurely tour of that section of the country and will not return to California until next month.

Anna Baker has closed her dramatic course for the summer and is motoring in the north with her mother, Mrs. M. T. Walsh.

DOUBLE WEDDING CEREMONY.

A double wedding ceremony was solemnized yesterday at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gunn of Bowditch street, Berkeley, when Miss Ruby M. Gunn became the bride of Robert Gaylord of Tacoma, Wash., and Edwin J. Gunn was married to Miss Muriel Hartmann.

The double service was read by Rev. G. E. Swan of All Soul's Episcopal church. Only relatives and very intimate friends were guests.

Miss Ruby Gunn was graduated from the University of California with the class of '17. Gaylord is an engineer identified with the Northern Pacific railroad. He is a son of Mrs. Virginia Gaylord of Tacoma.

Edwin Gunn, the bridegroom, is associated with his father in the banking business in Berkeley. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hartmann of Washington, her father being an official of the Metropolitan Insurance company.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord are to reside in Washington on their return from a honeymoon trip through the Canadian Rockies.

Organist Returns From Honeymoon

Edgar Bayliss, organist in a local theater, and his bride, the former Miss Mina Bickstaff of Keokuk, Ia., have returned from their honeymoon. The young woman came to Oakland a few weeks ago to visit with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mayhew of East Oakland. Shortly after her arrival she met Bayliss, Justice of the Peace Harry Pulicoff officiated at the hastily arranged wedding which followed the whirlwind courtship.

WIFE BITES, SAYS HUSBAND IN HIS DIVORCE PLEA

Berkeleyan Avers Also That His Spouse Is Poor Cook and Housekeeper.

That his young wife bit and scratched him, that she did not cure anything about keeping herself neat, that she was a poor housekeeper and refused to cook his meals and that he was forced to prepare his own food, are charges contained in the divorce suit filed by Carl F. Biedenbach, superintendent of parks for the city of Berkeley and son of C. L. Biedenbach, veteran educator and principal of the Berkeley high school.

The principal clause in the complaint filed describes a scene in the lobby of a fashionable Portland, Ore., hotel when the young wife bit and scratched her husband before the guests. Another scene told in the divorce action involves the police called in by neighbors to stop a "near riot" at the Biedenbach home at 1608 La Loma street, Berkeley.

On one occasion Biedenbach stated in his complaint, he came home and found his bride tearing up all of the carpets and tearing down the curtains. He remonstrated with her and a fight resulted, which ended only with the arrival of the police, called in by the neighbors. Due to the fact that he held a responsible position with the city, he said, no report was ever made to the police.

The couple were married in San Francisco, December 4, 1920, following a whirlwind courtship, after which the couple hurried to Tall's, on the beach, where the marriage was performed. Romance of the couple began when they were pupils at the school headed by Biedenbach's father. They separated six months after the wedding. The girl was formerly Miss Elsa Kany.

Other charges made by young Biedenbach were that his wife continually invited her mother and sister to their home, depriving him of his bed. He states at one time the two relatives stayed at his home for ten days and that their stay ended only after he had ordered them to leave. In addition, he said, his wife

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Alameda County Automobile Trade Association will be held in Oakland next Tuesday evening, July 19.

The Alameda county organization is affiliated with the California Automobile Trade Association, which consists of nearly 3500 garage-men, accessory dealers and motor car dealers all over the state.

A dinner will be held in a place yet to be selected and a business meeting held at the same time. There will be many interesting discussions during the evening, which the whole membership will hear.

The organization here is divided into various crafts, which meet at stated intervals during the year. In this way the battery men, garage men, accessory men and motor car dealers thresh out their own problems. Once a year the whole organization gets together for a general meeting and election of officers.

Bob Martland, secretary-manager, is arranging the details of the meeting and there will be some fun along with the serious business.

Mills College Fete For Endowment Fund

College alumnae throughout the country are sponsoring a series of entertainments to swell the endowment to the proposed $2,000,000.

Mrs. Joseph Ungeman, newly elected president of the local organization, is directing the early season function. Committees for the various concessions and tables have given the summer over to preparation.

The following chairmen are in charge: Program, Mrs. Minna McGauley; mystery, Mrs. William E. Sharon; Spanish, Mrs. C. F. Jarvis; bags and fancy work, Miss Jeanette Gregory; candy, Mrs. Charles J. Youngberg; home cooking, Mrs. Walter H. Byington; aprons, Mrs. Francis Ferrier; campus, Miss Rosalind A. Keep.

Groups of playground children, high school and camp fire girls, women's clubs and various other organizations are sending scores of participants into the big caste, which is being trained under the direction of Mrs. E. A. Hollington. Special attention is being given the oriental music which will be the accompaniment to the pageant. Ellen Cowan is musical director.

Degree of Paganism of Improved Order of Red Men is sending a delegation of members to appear in the Indian episode, one of the three spectacular parts which are representative of California history. The pageant is divided into the traditional epochs of Indians, pioneers of '49 and the four gods of California. Miss Hilda Clute has been rehearsing the groups of high school girls in symbolic dances.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 13, 1921.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.
President Harding's message to the Senate urging that Congress refrain from imposing upon the federal treasury so heavy a financial burden as contemplated in the soldier bonus law was soundly supported by facts. It was apparent, as every one must have already known, that the President was loathe to stand in the way of extending any possible advantage to the veterans of the war, but there are physical facts to face and these the President could not disregard.

Those who have urged the bonus legislation at this time knew perfectly well the obstacles which the President was obliged to describe. The members of the Senate were mindful of them. But there was a desire on the part of everybody concerned to sidestep the possible bad political effect of speaking frankly on the subject. So that task was delegated to the President. He met it with admirable frankness.

There were two or three points in Mr. Harding's speech that caused deep satisfaction. He disclosed, in the first place, that the war risk insurance bureau is catching up with its work. Of the $13,442 claims for compensation that had been filed up to July 7, nearly 747,700 claims have been adjudicated. By July 21 this bureau will have completely caught up with its work and all the cases before it will then be current.
Thus one of the most distressing causes of complaint on the part of disabled soldiers will have been removed within the next few days.

The President also stated that out of 887,614 cases of requested medical examinations less than 14,000 now await medical action. Here again the government is getting abreast with its obligations. On July 7, 26,237 disabled soldiers had been placed in hospitals and in government-controlled hospitals. Today there are 6000 available beds without occupants.

In the bureau of vocational training and rehabilitation of disabled soldiers there has been noteworthy improvement. Up to date 107,824 men have been enrolled for training and today 75,812 men are training with pay, at the maximum cost of $160 per month, and $208 are training with tuition and supply outlay at $35 per month. This bureau is figuring on an average enrollment in training during the ensuing fiscal year of 90,000 men and the government will spend about $160,000,000 on this work.

What the President omitted to call attention to was the highly beneficial improvement in the personnel of all the government bureaus having to do with soldier aid through the discharge of incompetent and unfit employees and the tightening of the reins of supervision from the Executive Department. Altogether there has been a large improvement in the last four months and the charge that the government is neglecting the disabled and sick soldiers is rapidly becoming without foundation.

The President also took the opportunity to remind the Senate that several projects of important new legislation which had been recommended remain uncompleted and that it is about time they were finished. He referred to the tariff law, the revision of taxes and authority for a reorganization of the war risk insurance and vocational training bureaus. Congress should comply with his wishes but it will take a long time before doing so.

THE SERVICE OF MR. CHAMBERS.

There are several reasons for regretting that Hon. John S. Chambers has seen fit to resign the office of State Controller and to accept private employment. But above all he was of that high type of citizen, of marked ability and straight moral sense, that is all too infrequently found in public office.

Mr. Chambers possessed the courage that becomes the important officer he has just relinquished. While in the majority of cases he followed the lead of the political masters of the State administration, he did not always follow. He opposed the politicians at times, when he believed the public interest to be threatened by the political program. He did not choose the latter course as often as he might have; for instance he did not oppose the other members of the State Board of Control and the Governor in the scheme to raise the tax burden by some $20,000,000 last January. But he was capable of independent choice, which is commendable.

In the constantly growing burden of State government, Mr. Chambers has done more than any other public official in calling attention to dangers. He understood the financial system, the tendency of government to take on new burdens and assume new expenses, the inevitable and rapid growth in tax rates and per capita tax asessments and he kept up his warning against unnecessary undertakings and extravagance. For these efforts the people should be grateful. Perhaps they will be moved to watch the next Controller more closely and to demand that his ability measure up to the requirements of his office.

A FATAL THRUST.

The board of freeholders elected to draft a charter for a consolidated county and city government of Alameda county have decided to an-nihilize the referendum, initiative and recall.
In the draft of the articles of the proposed charter they have included a provision forbidding the circulation of referendum, initiative and recall petitions by solicitors.

Their alternative is to have the petitions on file in the office of the city clerk of the metropolitan government, if the question involved applies to the whole consolidated area, and in the borough city clerk's office if it applies only to a borough. The elector wishing to sign a petition for a special recall, referendum or initiative election would have to journey to the city clerk's office and there attach his signature.

This is precisely the scheme which was proposed by the clique of a former Oakland city administration that banded together to destroy the civil service system in the local government.
When this clique submitted the proposition to amend the Oakland charter provision regarding the referendum, initiative and recall in the manner the freeholders propose, the people voted their scheme down.

There is much to be said, out of a fairly large experience, regarding the merits of these reforms in government—the referendum, initiative and recall. They have not met all expectations.
Every other reform has likewise failed to meet all expectations. The doubtful benefit of the initiative has been shown with particular force.
It has developed that a few individuals, utterly without experience in law or government, may formulate legislation of the most dangerous and unwise character, require it to be submitted to a vote of the people, and by vigorous campaigns of dishonesty and misrepresentation cause it to be adopted. To make the initiative less ready to the hand of ignorance and self-seeking is to be much desired. Perhaps a little tightening of the reins on the referendum and the recall would be wise.

But it is neither moral nor wise to proceed against these instruments of popular government with methods of sniping and assassination.
Requiring that petitions may be signed only in the office of the city clerk would kill the referendum, initiative and recall for all practical purposes. To compel from 10,000 to 50,000 people to journey to the city hall and await the convenience of the city clerk would insure the failure of a recall or any other petition, regardless of its merit.

When the anti-civil service faction in the Oakland city administration tried to put over this scheme to protect its members against recall, THE TRIBUNE exposed the true character of the plot and the people voted it down. That the freeholders have determined to slip the same scheme into their consolidated charter certainly should win no new friends for that document.

THE GATES OF JANUS CLOSED.

With the signing of the Knox-Porter resolution by President Harding peace with Germany and Austria, technical as well as actual, becomes a reality. The war is over; the American troops upon the Rhine will soon be upon their way home.

The people will feel a sense of relief that this question is at last settled, for so strong are the predilections for peace that even the technical continuation of the war was distasteful. The spirit of good will to all the world which has marked their history from the very inception of the nation was never more manifest than it is today.

The United States on various occasions has been drawn into conflict with other countries, but always reluctantly, always to defend its cherished rights. In 1775 our forefathers rebelled against the Tory British government of George III, and in so doing saved for England as well as America the priceless heritage of Anglo-Saxon liberty. Thirty-seven years later the nation again found it necessary to engage in war with Great Britain, but only after two decades of earnest efforts to preserve the peace, this time as the champion of international rights upon the sea.

And the Mexican war, a war which many Americans have found it difficult to justify, we now know, thanks to the researches of Professor Justin H. Smith, to have been deliberately planned and forced upon us by the government at Mexico City. In extension of our Civil War we need only point to the recent statement of Ambassador Geddes at the centennial celebration of the University of Virginia, that the time came in the life of every nation when it must fight or die.

In the Spanish-American war we contended for the rights of a small and outcasted neighbor, a neighbor which we could not permit to suffer indefinitely without serious injury to our own vital interests. And lastly, in the great World War, after prolonged hesitation, we drew the sword to defend the threatened cause of liberty, to bolster up the tottering structure of civilization.

A notable record that, a record which stamps the American people, not as pacifists or shirkers, but as genuine lovers of peace. In the century and a third which has elapsed since the ratification of the Constitution there have been at times, if we except the conflicts with Indians and pirates, less than 10 per cent of the time a total of some thirteen years. It is, then,
with joyful acclaim that we see the gates of Janus being closed, the United States of America once more returns to its normal status, in again at peace with the world.—New York Sun.

NOTES and COMMENT

The blue Sunday crusade in Tennessee is the most binding that has yet been proposed. It would stop trains running on the Sabbath and exclude newspapers from the mails, though as to the latter it would seem that the Federal government might be an intervener. However, such a law has not been enacted, but it is interesting that there is any number of persons who would propose it.

News from home via the Kansas City Star: "San Francisco papers announced last week the marriage of Miss Coote to Mr. ... and found to know her, even though the name of the man she married should be Schultenhausen."

Charles R. Crane, retiring American minister to China, who was at first denied permission to come home via Russia and then granted such permission, enjoys singular experiences en route. It will be remembered that, having been appointed to the Chinese mission by President Taft, he got to talking on the way and was recalled from San Francisco. The recall induced him to make a sizable contribution to the Wilson campaign fund, and thus he reached the goal in the succeeding administration.

The young woman who has brought the fad of wearing a white stocking with a black shoe and a black stocking with a white shoe has not sprung anything new. At the circus we see persons, dressed that way, conspicuously trying to create diversions for those who assemble for the express purpose of being diverted.

It looks as though the effort to divide Sonoma and make an egg county, with Petaluma as the seat, may come to something. The Supreme Court has summoned the Sonoma Board of Supervisors to show cause August 1, why they should not acquiesce in such division.
Chico is watching, having a similar proceeding in mind as to Butte county.

Now a Modesto judge comes out
in favor of flogging for wife-beaters.
We hear that remedy proposed from various parts of the country. There is something in wife-beating that evidently nonplusses the magistrates.
Anything about flogging would be that it could not be undone by probation officers.

Sabotage on a ship that carries passengers is a crime that cannot be over-characterized and the adequate punishment for which has not been set down in the statutes. Men who seek to vent their spite, or to achieve any end whatever, by thus imperiling
the lives of hundreds in nowise involved in whatever grievance they may think they have, have characteristics that disqualify them from human consideration.

It seems that Germany is not entirely satisfied with this country ending the technical war which existed between the two countries. It may have been well enough to do that, but it seems to have been expected that the action would be accompanied by an expression of regret or some provision that would help them along with implacable European allies.

Kentucky moonshiners who are making war against government prohibition agents are behind the times. Merely shooting up the agents is old stuff. The Kansas City Star wants to know why they don't get out and parade. That is the New York way, and New York is sometimes credited with showing how.

Colonel Brookhart, representing the National Farmers' Union, blames the depression on profiteers,
being by middlemen, on speculative gambling, on arbitrary restriction of credits by the Federal Reserve Board, on exorbitant railroad rates and on the breakdown of foreign markets. Thus it will be seen that there is more the matter with us than most of us thought.

The statement that there are 30,000 Americans in Mexico indicates either that there must have been a large sudden emigration to that country, or that the weird suspicion of a president, which ended with Carranza did not eliminate them as thoroughly as was understood.

Interesting story about a woman losing a $1200 diamond ring at a picnic. The custom of wearing diamonds at picnics must be one of the new and inscrutable fashions that are decreed in that mysterious way in which fashions evolve.

THE PHILIPPINE CRISIS

To the Editor of The Tribune:

We desire to thank you for your most interesting and able editorial of June 18 on "The Philippines in Trouble," for while it paints a darker picture than, as a matter of fact, actually exists, at the same time the conclusions you reach are many degrees fairer and more reasonable than many others we have seen bearing on the same subject.

Circumstantial evidence has changed many an innocent man.
While it would appear from the circumstances that the Philippine government is in a financial difficulty, the fact is that we were never in so healthy a condition. Unprejudiced analysis will reveal the fact that a national debt of $15,000,000, which was fixed fifteen years ago when the per capita circulation was $1.86, is totally inadequate today when the population has grown from 6,000,000 to nearly 11,000,000, when the development of the islands has gone forward by leaps and bounds, and when we have had, in addition, a world war that has staggered the financial stability of the entire world.

The request to increase our national debt is no sudden or startling
one. General McIntyre, chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs, testified before the Senate committee last week that it had been requested by every governor America had sent to the Philippines in the last fifteen years. The original bill as presented to Congress called for an increase to $25,000,000. Upon his own initiative, Secretary Weeks suggested that it be raised to $30,000,000, believing that more in keeping with the Philippines' position. This change, however, as of course anyone familiar with governmental procedure will understand, tended to retard the bill's passage. In the meantime it is perfectly true that our reserves have become lower than is considered good business. It is because of this that General Wood cabled to Washington to act on the Philippine bill without delay, and in order that some Congressman might not take offense (no doubt) at what might be considered unwarranted interference on the part of an "investigating committee," he explained
why such prompt action was necessary. At least, this is how the matter appeared to Congress.

Your statement that "There are causes other than political" is quite true. The world war is a predominant cause. For a time it seemed as though the Philippines alone among the civilized nations of the world would succeed in coming through the aftermath of war without suffering the financial depression because of its world-wide. But the sudden break in the markets for sugar, hemp and rice naturally had but one effect. The fact that the Philippine National Bank had issued its securities to provide for the building of sugar centrals and thus establish a profitable home industry may now be regarded as a poor business move, but at the time it was thought to be most judicious. Man's judgment is not infallible. Other governments and other banks have made mistakes. Who could foresee the forcing down of prices until there was no market for our chief commodities?

Your allusion to the Non-Partisan League of North Dakota does not seem applicable to us. Our government is not socialistic, but patterned after that of the United States. The Philippine National Bank is called a government bank because the government is a shareholder in this bank and happens to be the largest shareholder. If you will look over the financial situation in our country for a moment you will realize that the government was gradually forced along the path of government ownership, not only of public utilities but of other business as well,
in order to develop our natural resources. This has provoked criticism on the part of some American interests, yet American capital has been reluctant to enter the Philippines to any great extent and American bankers have been loathe to extend long-time credits to our country, though British bankers have offered two-year credits in some cases. Today the amount invested in the archipelago by Great Britain is about double that of American investors. Loyal Filipinos would prefer to trade with America, but what could we do under such conditions?

The Philippine government, in default of large American investment, has, in the desire to promote development of the country, attempted to encourage various industries through its own slender resources. The most conspicuous of these are the Philippine National Bank, the Manila railroad, the National Coal Company, the telephone lines, electric light and water companies and nearly all telephone lines. While government ownership is thus general, it may be positively stated that this has not been because we discouraged individual ownership, but solely because while private investors were hesitating or awaiting the future status of our country, we felt obliged to take it on ourselves.

Now what happened? The financial situation we had been weathering so well suddenly changed. Prices for sugar, which had given us a favorable trade balance for the first half year of 1920,
suddenly dropped, with other prices,
resulting in the collapse of our export market. Imports which had been contracted for far ahead exceeded our exports and the result was financial stringency. There was practically no demand for hemp tobacco or coconut oil and very little for copra. The rice market was paralyzed and the pulay could not even be moved to the mills.

What is the situation today? We have closed the fiscal year with a trade balance in our favor of $2,000,- 000. The Philippine National Bank has arranged to float a loan of $20,000,000 gold notes in New York, bearing 8 per cent interest, and secured by 112 per cent of their face value. The Manila railroad closed the year with a profit of $11,900, despite the hardships made by motor trucking, which has also damaged
our roads and caused further exports to the government. Sugar prices are more nearly normal and

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

"Preparatory work has been begun
for the dredging of the tidal canal which is to connect the bay of San Leandro and the bay of San Francisco by means of Oakland harbor," said the Tribune, "and this work is one of unusual magnitude and exceeding interest because thousands of cubic yards of material must be removed, and, at the same time, it is expected, a long-existing nuisance at Park street will be abated."

"When active dredging work will begin is not known. This will depend upon the other engagements of the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Dredging Company, to whom the contract for digging the canal has been let.
"The material to be removed forms the neck of land extending from a short distance west of the High-street bridge to a short distance east of Fruitvale avenue bridge. This neck was left several years ago when the appropriation of the Federal Government was exhausted and the project of a tidal canal abandoned.
At that time a channel had been dug up to the points specified above, giving a waterway of about 300 feet in width. The abandonment of the project on the west end is shown by the numerous dump cars and steam shovels which have been been utilized since the closing up of the work. . . ."

BANK VAULT DOORS BLOWN BY YEGGMEN

Efforts To Rob First National in Rodeo Is Thwarted When Inner Steel Safe Resists
Attacks of Robbers' Drills

Headed by Deputy Sheriff Joe Soares, Alameda county deputy sheriffs are today searching Oakland and the surrounding territory for the three safe crackers who last night attempted to loot the First National Bank of Rodeo, 15 miles up the bay shore. All highways are being watched for the men, of whom a fair description has been furnished the authorities by people who saw the yeggs before they tried to blow open the doors of the vault.

Gaining entrance to the bank by prying off a rear door with two-inch jimnies, the yeggs, equipped with wet blankets and nitroglycerin and with electric drills, connected with the bank's fixtures and proceeded to drill out the combinations of the outside door and the fireproof door. With this door off, they were confronted with a burglar-proof, burglar-alarm safe.

Officials say nothing of value is missing. Evidently afraid to tackle it, according to the authorities, they abandoned the job and fled in an automobile which they left standing a short distance away, leaving the blankets which they had prepared to muffle the nitroglycerin blast.

Officials of the bank declared today that no books or papers were missing and that had the safe-blowers succeeded in effecting an entrance to the safe they would have been rewarded with a small amount of cash as all of the valuable bonds and other assets were on deposit with the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. Phil J. O'Leary is president of the bank.

Sheriff R. R. Veale of Contra Costa county, was notified and communications were at once despatched to Oakland, San Francisco, Livermore and all other larger Eastbay towns. Sheriff Veale could obtain no finger prints as the men wore rubber gloves in drilling off the two outer doors of the safe.

WATCHMAN HELD AND CASH DRAWER REPLED.

Awakened by the sound of a prowler on the premises, Homer Landfried, nightwatchman for the Gros Street Garage, at 6117 Grove street, was confronted by a masked and armed burglar who flashed a pistol in his face. The man, ordered him to keep still, and took $25 from his pockets and $6 from the cash register near by.

Arranging a flashlight on a table so it shone directly on Landfried, the burglar stepped to one side, still covering his victim with a large automatic revolver, and used the telephone wires, which he used in tying the night watchman's hands behind his back.

Threatening severe injury should he give the alarm, the burglar turned, ran from the office, back through the garage, and escaped through an open window. Landfried, disregarding the warning of the intruder, stepped into another office, where a second telephone was situated, and, knocking the receiver from the hook with his head, called the operator to send the police.

Captain Charles Beck, in command of the Northern Police Station, responded to the call for help with a posse of eight patrolmen. They searched the neighborhood for an hour but could find no trace of the burglar. Landfried told the police that the man was exceedingly cool and collected at all times. He could give no description of his assailant other than to say he wore a dark suit and hat.

Berkeley Merchant
Deeds Plot to City

BERKELEY, July 13.—A small triangular plot of ground, located in Thousand Oaks, near the John Hinkley park, has been presented to Berkeley by J. P. Hink, a local merchant, to be used for a "breathing space" in the rapidly growing neighborhood. The lot has a frontage of 150 feet on two sides by 115 feet on the third side, and is at the junction of Arlington road and San Rafael avenue.

Charlie Chaplin Offers $1000 For the Rescue of Missing Girl

CLAIRE WINDSOR, dancing school pupil who has disappeared in Los Angeles.

Comedian in Person Joins Poses Using Bloodhounds in Search in Hills

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Charles Chaplin at noon today notified Los Angeles newspapers and the police that he would pay $1000 reward for the rescue of Claire Windsor. Chaplin in person joined one of the three posses searching for the girl shortly before noon today.

It is estimated that the posses now scouring the Hollywood hills for the missing actress now number over 300 men. The Hollywood police station has placed bloodhounds and Indian trackers in the field, headquarters stated today.

A little more than a year ago Miss Windsor came to Los Angeles on a pleasure trip. A friend took her on a visit to the Weber studio, where Miss Weber struck by her blonde beauty and great personal charm, invited her to play a small part in a picture "Just for fun." Miss Weber's real idea, however, was to see if Miss Windsor "scratched" well. The test proved highly satisfactory.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 13.—Claire Windsor, for whom a search is being made in Los Angeles, is a former Seattle girl. She formerly attended the University of Washington and was a popular member of local society circles. She first gained recognition as a dancer here, where she was a student at an exclusive dancing school.

THEATER ASKS
U. S. AID IN WAR
ON SPECULATORS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—A local theater which has been endeavoring to put the ticket speculators out of business, appealed to U. S. Attorney Frank Silva today to take measures to prevent them from continuing in operation.

Although apparently the speculator has been put between "the devil and the deep sea," the management of the playhouse insists that he is still able to do some business.

The law requires that the speculator shall stamp his ticket "war tax paid," when he resells it. The theater in question refuses to accept tickets so stamped and in the complaint lodged today declares that the speculators have refrained from stamping them and are thus cheating Uncle Sam out of the additional war tax which is his due. By refusing to accept the stamped tickets and insisting that it be stamped if it is resold, the amusement people believe they can eventually prevent speculation in tickets.

MARKET SITE TO BE MADE AT MEETING

Farm Bureau Directors Will Gather At Hayward Saturday Night to Select Location for New Enterprise

Definite location of the new Co-operative Market, to be established in Oakland by the Alameda County Farm Bureau, will be made at a meeting of the directors of the organization Saturday night at the offices of Mark Lee, Alameda county farm adviser in Hayward. Selection of the site was to have been made today or tomorrow but at the request of the directors' decision was postponed.

Aided by the Co-operative Market farmers of the county may market their own products directly to the consumer. Plans as formulated call for the erection of a large tent as temporary headquarters.

Farmers may either truck their produce to the market and make sales directly or turn over the produce to the farm bureau representatives for sale on commission to meet overhead. At all times there will be two inspectors at the market to pass on all food offerings of the Alameda County Farm Bureau, will preside at the meeting Saturday night. Twenty-five directors have signified intention of attending.

The definite program will be entrusted to a committee composed of three members from each farmers' marketing organization now existing in these states. It was declared by Geo. Mansfield, president of the Oregon Farm Bureau Federation.

DRIVE FOR AD FUND TO BE LAUNCHED

Report of Captain Aiken to Outgoing Council Declares 72 Written Complaints of Its Condition Were Mailed

The executive and finance committees of the Alameda county advertising committee met this afternoon in the offices of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to consider definitely launching the national advertising campaign.

On the program was the taking of steps to secure from the cities and civic organizations of the county the $25,000 for the fund in addition to the same amount requested from the county.

A letter from Irving H. Kahn, chairman of the finance committee, to the Uptown Association, whose secretary, George E. Sheldon, protested to the supervisors last Monday against the request for $25,000, was read. Kahn, who is a member of the Uptown Association, took exception to the action of Sheldon, who is also a member of the finance committee of the advertising committee. Kahn's letter, which is addressed to Frank Proctor, president of the Uptown Association, reads:

"I note that the Uptown Association, through its secretary, George Sheldon, has filed protest with the board of supervisors against the granting of an appropriation of $25,000 for community advertising.

"This request was made by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and is part of the advertising program which has the endorsement of over twenty-five organizations in this county.

"May I ask if this protest was authorized by the officers of the Uptown Association, or was it merely a matter taken up by the secretary on his own responsibility?

"If Sheldon has assumed this authority, I feel he should be reprimanded for it and the association should repudiate his protest. If, however, this action was taken under authority of the directors, I, as a member, desire to protest the following of such a short-sighted policy.

"I cannot help but feel that much good time of the secretary is being wasted on matters outside of the original scope of our organization. In a matter of this kind, which has the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce, it is inexcusable.

The advertising conference also had on its program the arrangement of a meeting of the entire committee with the E-B organization of San Francisco. This will be held, it is expected, within the next month.

Wife Divorced When Her Love Is Won by Brother

His story of how his wife transferred her affections to his young brother who was then living under the same roof, of the finding of letters written to his wife by his brother which declared he "missed her hugs and kisses," and finally of how she openly professed her love for the younger man, told in the court room before Superior Judge T. W. Harris, has won for Fred B. Horton, an employee of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company in San Francisco, far more than Mabel Horton, on grounds of cruelty.

In the divorce proceedings Charles A. Horton, the younger brother, was named as the co-respondent, whose alleged duplicity was first discovered by the husband when he and Mrs. Horton said goodbye to the brother at a railroad station as he was leaving to join the army during the war.

According to the story told from the witness stand by Mrs. Mary Horton, 687 Sixty-first street, Horton's brother, her son and his wife accompanied the brother to a railroad station to bid him farewell.

"It was then," said Mrs. Horton, "that I understood the situation. I saw that burst of affection and I knew that something was wrong. The young brother and his brother's wife fell into each other's arms. Later I saw a letter from my young son to my other son's wife in which he said, 'I miss your hugs and kisses.'"

"Later the boy returned to live with Fred and his wife," the mother continued. "They were affectionate and loving to each other."

DISCERNS SITUATION.

"I was then," said Mrs. Horton, "that I understood the situation. I saw that burst of affection and I knew that something was wrong. The young brother and his brother's wife fell into each other's arms. Later I saw a letter from my young son to my other son's wife in which he said, 'I miss your hugs and kisses.'"

ROCKS FROM SKIES
Fall On This House

UTICA, N. Y., July 13.—A house on a lonely road near here in which Mr. and Mrs. William Ashley and their family recently moved is the scene of a mysterious phenomenon. For several weeks stones as large as billiard balls have been dropping on the house, apparently out of a clear sky. They fall perpendicular, as if dropped, not thrown. All efforts to explain their source have been vain.

Man On His Way to Altar Lands in Jail

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 13.—"There's many a slip 'twixt the ring and the knot," sighed George G. Johnson, as he languished in jail. George was to have been married at 6:30 o'clock on a certain recent evening. Miss Ethel Lawson, the bride-to-be, was dressed and awaiting the gallant George, when the telephone rang. The girl's father was "detained" at police headquarters.

Dressed in her wedding white, the bride pleaded for the release of George on bond, but to no avail. He was held on a charge of misappropriating funds of an electrical company.

PLANE FLIES TOYOSEMITE IN 2 HOURS

Four Persons Make Trip in Trail Blazer; Plans for a Regular Air Service Next Spring Proposed by Citizens

The pioneer trip to blaze the trail for a proposed air route from Oakland to Yosemite Valley, the first flight of its kind ever attempted, was completed yesterday, when a monoplane owned by the Janczi Brothers, whose factory is located in Berkeley, made the trip in two hours.

Leaving at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the plane, piloted by Bud Janczi, a local aviator, made a safe landing at a designated spot in the Yosemite Valley at 6:30. Besides Janczi, two passengers, John Kouke and A. Maderich, accompanied Janczi on the flight, making a total of four persons.

The trail-blazing trip over the proposed air route, which may be opened up next spring, was made to demonstrate to and to receive the endorsement of Stephen Mather, director of national parks, who is in the valley. If Mather considers the airplane a practical mode of transportation to the valley, a line of planes will make the trip every day, carrying six passengers.

About 35 gallons of gasoline was used to make the flight, according to Janczi. If the prospect is approved the route will be established next spring.

5 TAKEN IN RAID TRIED ON CHARGE OF SYNDICALISM

Police Officers Testify Men Admitted Membership in
I. W. W.

Two witnesses were called this morning in the case of the five men who are charged with criminal syndicalism. The hearing is being held before Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell. The case was continued until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The men were arrested in a raid on an alleged I. W. W. meeting in one of the rooms in Carpenters' Hall. The raid was conducted by Former Chief of Police Fenton Thompson and Police Inspector William Kyle. The men arrested are Howard Walton, Michael Dunn, Patrick Casey, James McLaughlin and John Manion.

KYLE FIRST WITNESS.
Police Inspector Kyle was the first witness to be called. He related the conversations which he had with the men following their arrest. The conversations were held in the Chief's office in the presence of the Chief and Kyle.

Kyle on the witness stand said that each of the men told him that they were members of the "I. W. W." and had been for some time. They further stated it was their belief and that it was a good organization.

PUBLIC MEETING.
The meeting, Kyle said, was open to the general public and the speaker was John Coleman; any person in the hall was at liberty to ask questions. Kyle, in the raid, asked questions of the men and they answered. Some of the men were presented in court. Some of it was seized at the meeting and some at the home of the men, the police said.

The second witness was Henry C. Gaylord, a San Francisco policeman, who testified that he arrested Manion in San Francisco on June 15. At the time of his arrest he had in his possession a large quantity of "I. W. W." books, Gaylord claimed.

William E. Herron, a San Francisco attorney, is representing the men, and Wade Snook, deputy district attorney, is handling the prosecution.

Plea to Distribute Prather Estate Filed

Petition for final distribution of the $35,000 estate of Mrs. Julia Prather was filed with Superior Judge Dudley Kinsell today by Attorneys McKee, Tashelra and Edson. R. Adams, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank.

The matter was continued for one day because of a certain seeming interest in the will, but before leaving the bench Judge Kinsell expressed himself as satisfied on this point and the matter is expected to be heard on tomorrow without further delay. The will leaves half of the estate to a niece, Miss Julia Adams and apportions the balance between Edson Adams' three daughters, of whom Miss Julia Adams is one. The others are Miss Elizabeth Adams and Miss Ella Adams. Thus Miss Julia Adams receives four-fifths of the estate and the others one-fifth each.

The estate has been in litigation for many years in connection with the estate of Thomas Prather, husband of Julia Prather.

Invention to Save Lives of Aviators

Invention of a stabilizer and a parachute which, it is claimed, will revolutionize the commercial aviation, was announced today by the California Aerial Navigation company through its president, C. C. Allen. The parachute and stabilizer will be impossible for an aviator to fall, Allen said, and planes will be able to land in much less space than is needed now. The object of the parachute, Allen announced, is to permit aviators who are forced to land in small field or streets, to open up the parachute and shutting off their motor, drop gently to the ground. The design of the parachute is somewhat similar to the ones used by parachute jumpers of today.

Native Sons Honor Past President

Presentations of past presidents' badges were made to past presidents of the Native Daughters and the Native Sons at a joint installation at the Wigwam, Pacific building, last night.

Dr. Victory A. Derrick, grand president of the Native Daughters, presented a jeweled gold badge with a diamond setting to Miss Edna Peatty, past president of the Alpha parlor. Native Daughters, and County Auditor E. P. Garrison, who is financial secretary of the Athens parlor, Native Sons, presented a diamond gold past president's badge to J. Carroll, past president of Athens parlor.

Rodeo Thanks Tribune, Eastbay Country Press

Editor of The TRIBUNE: Will you be good enough to accept the unanimous expression of the gratitude of the members of the Livermore Stockmen's Association for the whole-souled and unstinted exploitation which The TRIBUNE gave to our recent rodeo.

The rodeo of 1921 was a success beyond our best expectations. Attendance and financial return were larger than in any previous year and this excellent result, we do not hesitate to say, was due to The TRIBUNE's unstinted and effective effort in our behalf, and to the neighborly and kindly treatment accorded us by the country press of the great Eastbay territory.

The Livermore rodeo is not a profit-taking enterprise in any sense. It is carried forward for the purpose of establishing a huge amusement and athletic park as a memorial to those boys of the Livermore Valley who did not come back from "over there."

This fact The TRIBUNE and the Eastbay press recognized from the first and as a result we tender you our thanks for an unselfishness too rarely found and for publicity that was extraordinary in the results it achieved.

Sincerely yours,
M. G. CALLAGHAN,
Secretary Livermore Stockmen's Rodeo Association.

ALLOWANCE TOO BIG, COURT SAYS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The welfare of five children of the late James Dahnken and also of the Dahnken, operating the T. & D. theaters in Oakland, Berkeley, Richmond and elsewhere in California, was a subject of consideration today by Superior Judge Edward J. Shortall. Turner died recently and his widow, Mrs. Hattie M. Turner, was appointed guardian of the children, Virginia, Florida and Margaret, aged 13, and son, Francis Jr., 17 years old.

He informed the court that he had given his children property valued at $25,000 each, the income from which was between $6000 and $7000 a year apiece. He was asked by the court how much he considered necessary for their support, but responded that he thought all of it. Judge Shortall, however, took the view that such a large sum of money was too much and allowed Dahnken to spend $25,000 for the son and $300 for the daughter.

LENINE APPEALS TO U. S. TO HELP STARVING PEOPLE

BERLIN, July 13.—Lenine has appealed to the American government through Senator France, who is reported to be in Moscow, "to aid the Russian people who are gravely threatened by starvation, by sending food," according to a despatch from Kovno, to the East Prussian Gazette.

The correspondent claims to have this information "from an absolutely reliable source."

Lenine further asserts that the American government has informed Moscow that it is, in principle, inclined to inaugurate relief work in the Russian north, but only on condition that independent representatives elected by the Russian people and subject to no political influence, shall have control and supervision of the distribution of supplies.

Lenine, declares this correspondent, is trying to meet these requirements, despite the opposition of the extremists.

Funds Available For Navy Yards

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The annual naval appropriation bill was signed last yesterday by President Harding.

The bill carries approximately four hundred and ten million dollars and its signing ended the technical lapse of navy funds which had existed since July 1, when the fiscal year began. The bill also provides for the construction of new aircraft carriers and Pacific Coast naval stations. As finally amended, it carries the Borch amendment, authorizing and requesting "the President to call a three-power naval disarmament conference."

The bill represents a decrease of about eighty-six million dollars in the original Senate figures.

Note Found Would Indicate Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Believing that Edward Weikelt, 21 years old, who disappeared three weeks ago, had committed suicide, Mrs. Jennie Taylor of 1775 Geary street, where he boarded, appeared at headquarters today and turned over a note which might tend to indicate that he intended doing away with himself. Weikelt and his wife, Dorothy, separated several months ago following a disagreement and later she had married. He remained in jail for two weeks and after his release Mrs. Taylor said, was very despondent.

Three weeks ago he disappeared and today Mrs. Taylor came upon a note written in rambling fashion in which he stated that when he was gone every one would regret how they had treated him.

Murder, Suicide Is Coroner's Verdict

A verdict of suicide and murder was returned today by a coroner's jury at the inquest held over the bodies of Mrs. E. C. Vaughn and David Oliver, found dead in a room at the Royal hotel, 622 Twentieth street. According to the coroner's verdict, rendered by the jury, Mrs. E. C. Vaughn was shot and killed by her husband, who then turned the gun on himself and took his own life.

G. Simmons, deputy coroner, testified in behalf of the mother of Mrs. Vaughn, Mrs. L. P. Anderson of Los Angeles, that her daughter had been legally married but that she had no proof of it. A coroner's inquest was held over the bodies of Oliver and Vaughn, who were shipped to Los Angeles.

Alex Zully, another check-passer, was arraigned this morning before Police Judge Tyrrell. The preliminary examination was set for July 23.

SACRAMENTO, July 13.—Six out of eight unions which are members of the Sacramento Building Trades Council have rejected a wage scale proposal submitted by the Builders' Exchange, and indications are that the deadlock will continue until the end of this week, when both organizations are to hold meetings.

Reductions of a dollar a day except to building laborers, who were to be cut 50 cents, was proposed. The building laborers voted to accept the offer.

The unions were alleged to have proposed that contractors now engaged on jobs refund to the builder the balance of the building bill, or the craftsmen, the difference created by the proposed scale and the new scale.

HUNTING LODGE IN OREGON FOR ELKS PROPOSED

Grand Body At Los Angeles
Works While Visitors Are At Play.

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Members of the grand lodge of the B. P. O. Elks settled down at their hotel today to what they hoped would be the final session of their labors. They wanted to get through so they could go to the thousands of their brethren now here enjoying the program of sight-seeing and events that have been arranged for today and the remaining days of the week.

The problems before them were the final location of the grand lodge headquarters with the claims of Chicago in the lead, and the proposal of the delegation of Oregon Elks for the establishment of a playground and hunting lodge for Elks in Oregon.

The Oregonians were here in force, each bearing a badge that reminded Californians of an exposition plaque for state and general effectiveness. They said they were hopeful that their plans would be approved.

While the grand lodge was working most of the Elks were playing. The chief event was the preliminary test for drill teams, at Exposition Park, where an immense infield stretching in front of a large grand stand gave opportunity for intricate evolutions. The teams started at 9 o'clock with six teams competing and long before the opening hour the stand was well filled and thousands of automobiles were parked about the field and enclosure.

The six teams that went into the finals after yesterday's tryouts were Detroit and Jackson, Michigan, first; Portland, Oregon, second; San Francisco, second; Philadelphia and Salt Lake City, third.

THREE HELD FOR THEFT OF LIQUOR

Suspected of having robbed fashionable San Francisco and Oakland residences of liquor valued at more than $5000 during the past few months and to have committed scores of other burglaries in the bay cities in which groceries, automobiles and jewelry were taken, three men—Leonard Orr, George Ruff and Edward B. Ferris—are being held in the city jail in San Francisco while detectives investigate their records.

Information concerning the alleged operations of the trio was secured through the arrest of Ruff ten days ago and last night Detectives Richmond Tatham, John Palmer and James Ferguson arrested Ferris and Orr in Oakland and returned them to San Francisco to the city prison.

According to detectives the trio had fitted up quarters at 125 Rivoli street, which they conducted as an insurance company as a blind. Here the detectives claim, the three men operated their "thieves' exchange" in liquor, produce and automobiles. In this place the authorities found, it is alleged, an automobile stolen in San Jose and a Persian rug stolen from the home of Charles M. Pickett, 1050 Green street.

People in San Francisco the trio are declared to have robbed, are: S. G. Luppi, 2221 Pacific avenue, liquors valued at $2000.

Mrs. Carrie Schwabacher, 9000 Gough street, liquors valued at $1000.

Max Sommer, 736 Ashbury street, liquors valued at $1000.

W. J. Wilson, 1233 First avenue, liquors valued at $3000.

Percy V. Towse, 600 Buena Vista avenue, liquors valued at $2500.

Charles M. Pickett, 1050 Green street, rugs and jewelry valued at $2000.

When arrested by San Francisco detectives here both Orr and Ferris carried revolvers, the police say. Authorities claim that there are other members of the ring who have not yet been apprehended, although they are known to the police. Highway robberies, burglaries and other crimes have been traced to the ring, both in San Francisco and Oakland, the police said.

The three accused men will be charged with burglary today or tomorrow under indictments returned by the Grand Jury. In their operations, the police asserted, the burglar ring used a large automobile of bright green color. A green car figured in several crimes in the bay district, detectives claim.

CARTER PROMISES INVESTIGATION OF DREDGE TROUBLE

Captain Aiken Tells of Efforts to Have Old Council Make Repairs.

At the start of an investigation of the municipal dredger by the new commissioner of public works, Albert W. Carter, the tale of how the "dredger row" broke in the City Council during the last days of the recent administration has come to light.

The dredger's condition is deplorable, according to a report from Captain Aiken to Mayor Davis, read by the latter before the outgoing Council, and denied by Commissioner Soderberg before his term of office ended.

Aiken asserts that seventy-two letters and appeals went from the waterfront during the last administration, asking that something be done, but nothing happened until the day when Mayor Davis started something.

"I had no right to go over the head of the harbor engineer to the commissioner," said Skipper Aiken, "and so, naturally, the rules of discipline prevented my starting any kind of action. Find it has been secretary came to me and I was asked about the condition of the dredger. The mayor has the right to look into the affairs of any department, and so I was proper for me to tell what I knew."

"My position on the waterfront was embarrassing. Folks saw the dredger shut down day after day and asked why. I did not feel to blame for it, and yet I naturally could not blame my superiors. I had to stand the questioning."

The condition of the dredger is all that I have described, and more. I have opposed the plan to drydock and paint the dredger because those are only two items of many which are necessary. It may take $24,000 to overhaul the dredger properly.

"Contrary to general belief, the Oakland municipal dredger is a fine machine. It is the best dredger that could be desired, but it has not received the care and attention which it deserves. It has worked only 60 per cent of its real capacity at best."

"I laid the facts before the past administration many times, and wrote seventy-two letters and notes on the subject. I could do no more. I am glad that the dredger now is about to receive the attention which such a good machine deserves."

Skipper Aiken's report to the mayor described a long list of repairs and alterations which the dredger needs before it can become a really efficient machine. Practically everything from keel to truck, he said, needed fixing.

"I intend to look into that dredger in the next two or three days," promises Commissioner Carter.

FREELHOLDERS ARE ASKED TO MAKE CHARTER CHANGES

Merchants Want a Limit Put On Manager's Pay; More Names to Obtain Recall.

That the number of signatures required for recall petitions be increased and that a maximum salary for the city manager be fixed in the charter are two requests which members of the Merchants' Exchange at their regular weekly meeting last night decided to make of the Board of Freeholders.

A committee consisting of E. H. Hart, Wilbur Walker and George Sheldon was named by the Exchange to present these suggestions to the freeholders, who are now preparing a charter for the proposed consolidation of the municipalities and unincorporated territory of Alameda county.

As tentatively drawn up the Freeholders propose that the number of signatures required on a recall petition to make it effective be fixed at 8 per cent of the number of voters cast locally in the last preceding election for Governor. The Merchants' Exchange will request that this be raised to 10 per cent.

The tentative charter also provides a minimum salary of $12,000 a year for the city manager. The Merchants' Exchange will ask that the charter also include a maximum figure.

The Exchange also passed a resolution asking the council to communicate with the Santa Fe railway urging the restoration to service of the "Santa Fe" line from Los Angeles to Los Angeles, which was discontinued during the war.

Ralph placed the muzzle of the gun against its side and sent the final bullet through its heart. The bear weighed 600 pounds, being the largest seen in this section for many years. He had lost many goats of late, but thought coyotes were responsible.

Following a meeting lasting for several hours, during which the dry leaders expressed themselves as being most optimistic concerning the situation as it stands today, a motion was carried by the county board of supervisors to call a special election to vote upon the "county Volstead act" recently adopted by the supervisors and held up by referendum petitions filed last week, was unanimously adopted.

Enthusiastic applause followed the balloting on the question, which came immediately after L. B. Robinson, one of the drier leaders, had forces, dramatically declared that "postponement would be a confession of weakness, and we are not weak."

The county enforcement measure does not apply to incorporated cities. Pine and Court Street and School Section to Go in First.

MARTINEZ, July 13.—Actual paving work in the Court and Pine-street district will be started Saturday, it was announced today by Contractor W. E. Paul, of the firm of Paul & Sayles. Employment of asphalt workers is under way today and the contractors' plans in the western end of the city will begin operations Thursday.

The first "hot stuff" to be laid will be placed in the unpaved section of the grammar school park, which was left unpaved last year because of the lateness in the award of the contract and weather conditions. Dr. A. H. Briggs, one of the state leaders in the prohibition movement, will be the principal speaker of the evening. He claimed the issue is not between the wets and dries, but between Americans and un-Americans; upholders of law and breakers of law. The bespeaking confinement in that the vote of the people of the state will be when the vote is taken on the Wright bill, by referendum, next year.

Grant R. Bennett, L. D. Ehnelt, L. D. Walker and Col. P. A. Bryant were other speakers of the evening. The resolutions condemning Police Judge Dougherty for his act in throwing out the jury panel last week were adopted by a second set of resolutions which praised Detective Ray Starbird for his "fearless and capable selection of honest jurors."

Judge Dougherty was denounced in bitter terms for his alleged "usurpation of authority." Speakers openly accused the judge of standing in the way of the liquor interests and declared his contention that telephone summoning of prospective jurors is illegal was "only a subterfuge to protect an accused bootlegger."

The resolution declared that unless Judge Dougherty "mends his ways" and "upholds the law himself," his dismissal "must be and should be brought by the thinking people of the community."

Copies of the resolutions adopted were ordered spread upon the minutes of the organization and referred to Judge Dougherty and Detective Starbird.

$5,000,000 Cut Outside Gate Is Started by U. S.

Formation Shows Silt Will Not Refill Channel, Says Engineer.

The $5,000,000 warship channel to be built by the United States government through the ocean bar outside of the Golden Gate has been started with the removal of the first 1000 tons of heavy sand from the crest of the bar, which is about 10 feet deep. The work was done by the Scaevyne, war department engineer, in charge, the dredger San Pablo, anchored in six fathoms of water, dished the top of the barrier and dumped the material to sea where 60 fathoms were sounded.

Colonel Deakney today expressed his pleasure in finding that the bar formation shows silt will not refill. This means, he says, that when the channel is dug it will not fill up again. The "clearway" to be built for the battleships is to be 500 yards wide and 10 feet deep. An engineering feat it is to be compared to that of bridging the bay and is attracting a wide attention in naval circles. Completed, it will mean that the heaviest craft can come into the bay with from 50 to 60 feet of clearance.

Colonel Deakney says that the preliminary dredging was done that the bar would be broken up. He believes that the completed plans and specifications will be at hand soon and that the job will be under way within a short time.

Shrieks Startle Court as Mrs. Kaber Collapses

LEA WIRE TO TRIBUNE. CATHY KABER COLLAPSED IN COURT. Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber was carried out of the courtroom today when she collapsed during the testimony being given by her brother, Charles Brickel.

Brickel was being questioned concerning his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Brickel, also under indictment for the murder of the wealthy Daniel Kaber.

Brickel was asked if his mother had set fire to the Kaber home. He replied that his mother did not set fire to the house, that she was sick at the time and that "they could prove it."

Mrs. Kaber, who had been watching her brother intently, fell from her chair to the floor, shrieking hysterically when her brother reached this point in his testimony. She collapsed and was carried from the courtroom. When she was released, Mrs. Kaber cried, "Marian, Marian!"

Marian is her daughter, Miss Marian McArdle, 21, also under first degree indictment in connection with the Kaber murder.

Guilt Denied by Murder Suspect

EL CENTRO, Cal., July 13.—J. F. Murphy and J. H. Williams, arrested yesterday and placed in the Imperial county jail at the request of Pao authorities investigating the killing of William Bohman, freight engineer, denied all knowledge of the killing. It was said at the jail early today. It was said further questioning of the men will probably be delayed until the arrival of El Paso officers said to be on their way here.

The men were arrested in northern end of Imperial county when they arrived on a Southern Pacific train and held on charges of vagrancy, each being given a 15-day sentence. The Imperial county sheriff's office had been asked to look out for two men whose description, deputies said, tallied with that of Murphy and Williams.

According to information reaching here, Bohman was attacked in the cab of his engine near Alpins, Texas, on July 8, and thrown to the wayside, where he was found dead. Charles Robertson, fireman, was struck down and the train was wrecked after running wildly for about four miles. The Texas authorities sought two men said to have been seen riding on the train.

COL. IRISH FILES PROTEST AGAINST ALIEN TAX LAW

County Officials Say Collections Will Be Made Until Test Case Is Heard.

County Clerk George P. Gross and County Assessor J. Harrison, today received telephone messages from Col. John P. Irish on behalf of the American Justice League, an organization to aid the Japanese protesting against the proposed plan of the officers to proceed with the collection of the alien poll tax on August 1.

Irish said he understood nothing was to be done in reference to actual collection of the money until a test case had been heard in the courts and declared he would have a personal interview with the officials at once.

Gross said he had nothing to do with the collection of the money, his duty ending with the registration of the aliens.

Irish said he had no alternative but to begin the collection of the tax on August 1 as provided by law, and to continue until the courts decided otherwise.

"The law directs me to begin the collection of this tax August 1 and I shall do so," said Irish. "If any persons or persons wish the matter handled differently their proper recourse is to go into court and secure a writ of mandamus or temporary injunction directing me to stop the collection until a test case is heard and decided. In the absence of such an order I have no alternative but to proceed with the taking of the money."

The law permits Clay to pay the city deputies $6 a day for collecting the tax from the aliens listed on the foreign birth records, and to him by the county clerk and $7 a day for the country deputies.

Concord Man Twice Faces Same Charge

MARTINEZ, July 13.—Henry Hoffman of Concord is again in the charge of embezzlement, facing a second charge of the same crime. Hoffman was charged with the embezzlement of a large Alameda county acreage which has been on trial before Superior Judge Timothy Fitzpatrick for several weeks.

The court today decided that there had been no misrepresentation in connection with the sale on the part of Hoffman, and that the sale of the acreage was valid. Hoffman could not hope to recover the $10,000 paid. The New Land and Development company is suing to enforce its contract with Hoffman, and the court today ordered the payment of a balance of $225,000 due on the purchase of the acreage. In an answer and cross-complaint the Farmers contended that the promotion had been misrepresentation to them and that their representative had obtained a wrong impression from a conversation with Attorney Gavin McNab. The court today threw out the answer and cross-complaint which also called for a return of the $40,000. It was then ordered that the trial of the contract proceed.

ALTEN PITCHES GREAT BALL TO DEFEAT THE SEATTLE TEAM

MISSION LEAGUE DISBANDS FOR THE SEASON WHEN GILROY DECIDES TO QUIT ORGANIZATION

OAKS MAKE SEATTLE LOOK LIKE A VERY ORDINARY BALL CLUB

Jack Knight Crashes a Homer, While Ernie Alten Pitches a Swell Game of Ball.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

The "Do and Don't" crowd was out to Recreation Park in San Francisco yesterday afternoon to see the Oaks and Seattle Indians open their series, which almost everybody predicted would furnish almost as many thrills as did the series last week between the Oaks and Seals. The positions which those two clubs hold in the percentage column gave indications of a warm series, but if all games are to be like the one yesterday, there will not be many thrills furnished by the Seattle club, for it looked very bad in its first start by letting the Oaks put across a 10 to 1 win. But getting back to the "Do and Don't" crowd, it was formed by those who would like to see the Oaks get a fine trouncing from the Indians because of the way those Oaks treated the Seals last week. And then again they wanted the Oaks to win from the Indians, because by so doing they would prevent Seattle from taking the lead away from the Seals, who figure to have a tough series with the Coyotes at Sacramento.

The crowd was all for Oakland to win, because the scoreboard in center field showed that the Seals were being whipped by the Coyotes at Sacramento. Seattle failed to appear as a club that was battling for the lead, but sometimes bad work on the part of a pitcher will make any ball club look bad, and that was probably the case yesterday. "Lefty" Schorr was on the hill for Seattle at the start, and the Oaks hopped on him for three runs in the very first inning, a homer into the left field bleachers by Jack Knight when two players were on the paths featured the rally.

Oaks Kept Up Good Work Against Seattle

After all it is not only against the Seals that the Oaks play big league baseball, for they were out yesterday afternoon looking every bit as classy at bat and in the field as they did when they took the Seals down the line last week. They played errorless ball, with Babe Pinelli and Jack Knight featuring with some great infield work. Pinelli was on the starting end of two double plays via Knight to Guisto, and had another one started, but a little delay around second cut it short. With the war club the Oaks went just as wild as they did all last week, and gathered fifteen hits off Schorr and Roy Francis who relieved him. Claude Cooper led in the swatting with four out of five, while in the outfield he showed the Seattle boys some classy fielding and robbed them of a few basehits in the eighth inning. Claude traveled to the left center fence to get Lane's long fly, and Bayes, the next batter, was robbed of a hit also when Cooper tore in behind second to make a difficult catch.

Ernie Alten Hurls One Of His Best Games

It is almost impossible to account for the big improvement of the Oakland club in the past six weeks. Even Hack Miller, who was off in his fielding, is making catches that but a few fans to their feet. Every player has the old dash of speed on the bags and in the field, while box scores tell what they are doing in the hitting line. No doubt every member of the Mission League Passes Away Very Quietly

Gilroy Throws Up the Sponge When the Fans Remain Away.

SAN JOSE, July 12.—The California Mission baseball league was absolutely and unquestionably the California Mission league today, the result of definite action taken by directors of the reorganized league last night at Gilroy where the complete disruption was finally and surely carried out and stakes were pulled for the season of 1921.

Gilroy, having played to a 1500 crowd on Sunday afternoon after the league had been reorganized without the San Jose clubs, decided that the job was too big and a mass meeting of the city was called. There it was determined that there should be no more baseball in Gilroy this year unless it be of an independent brand.

While a few fans murmured something today about a possible continuation of the league with Salinas, Watsonville, Hollister and San Jose, there was no general rush looking toward such a plan, and every indication is that the league is dead, not to be resurrected at least this year.

A BITTER BATTLE

The final downfall of the league brings to a close the bitterest year in the history of the game on the Mission league circuit. From the moment baseball was first mentioned in early January there was continual strife in the ranks of the interior coast cities. The Mission league was organized and re-organized a half dozen times before it finally got under way.

Gilroy, usually one of the best paying towns on the circuit, failed to "take" to the squabbling and fussing and didn't give very kindly treatment to the managers and players of that place, who came in for a fine little "panning" and lack of patronage during the past two months. It was because of last Sunday's dismal crowd, which "showed up" following a frantic plea of the baseball leaders for the support of the community, that President C. Lester decided to give up the ship.

The management of the San Jose team was today endeavoring to arrange a series of games with the Salinas team, winner of the first half of the defunct Mission league season, the games to be played alternately here and in Salinas. No definite agreement had been reached early today, however.

SEALS DEFEATED BY COYOTES IN FIRST GAME.

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—The San Francisco Seals opened their series here yesterday by letting the Coyotes hang a 7 to 0 defeat on them. Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, the Seals' pitching ace, was baited from the box and replaced by Herbie McQuaid, who pitched fine ball for two innings and then quit in the third. The Coyotes were then led by the New York Giants, who were defeated by the Seals, 4 to 0. O'Doul isn't blamed entirely for the defeat, as four errors were made behind him, and he made one himself. Clinton Brough had a big day on the mound and let the Seals down with only four hits. Rowdy Elliott was the heavy hitter for the locals with three out of four. The score: SAN FRANCISCO 0, SACRAMENTO 7.

Baseball Gossip

The Seals must hustle now, for they have the Sacramento Coyotes ready to step ahead of them. Only a game and a half separates the two clubs. The Oaks are six and a half games behind the leaders, and the chances are that they will be closer before the series is over.

When the boy on the scoreboard rung up five runs for the Coyotes in the sixth inning and the Seals were beaten right there, some Oakland fans shouted out that they would probably blame Jake Croier for that defeat also.

Oakland and San Francisco fans are about as friendly these days as a wildcat and a bulldog would be in the same cage.

Babe Pinelli failed to get a base hit yesterday, but he certainly made up for it in the field.

Every Oak but Pinelli got one or more hits.

Some of the fans thought they got cheated by not seeing a bunch of players ready to mob the umpires as happened in almost every game last week when Byron and Croier umpired.

Babe Ruth hit two homers and a double for the Yankees when they defeated St. Louis 6 to 4. Some day they will accuse Babe of laying down on the job if he doesn't hit two homers a day.

Pinch Hitter failed to get a hit, while Meusel and Peckinpaugh each got one.

Earl Sheely hit a homer and two singles for the White Sox, who lost to the Senators 4 to 3. Johnson hit a single and Mulligan two. The latter made a boot.

Harry Heilmann hit a triple, double and single in a sixteen inning game in which Detroit defeated the Athletics 3 to 1. Baskler got two hits, and Blue and Young one. Leonard pitched the first twelve innings for Detroit and was relieved by Jimmy Middleton.

The Cleveland Indians won a double-header from Boston. Covelleski won the first game 7 to 1.

George Kelly hit a homer for the Giants who defeated the Cards 3 to 2. Journer went hitless with the Cards. Ray Rowher hit a double, while Cusshaw hit a homer and two singles for the Pirates who won from the Phillies 9 to 4.

Joe Oeschger had the best of a pitching duel with Grover Alexander, so the Braves defeated the Cubs 3 to 1. Alexander got three of the seven hits off Joe. Hollacher and Maeler were unable to solve Oeschger's shoos, while Billy Southworth of the Pirates hit two of Alexander's.

WALTER CHRISTIE HAS WORDS OF PRAISE FOR EASTERN ATHLETES

Lauds Sportsmanship and Ability of Visitors Who Took Part in Last Saturday's Meet.

By B. H. LALANDE

Walter Christie, veteran track coach of the California Varsity track team and the man who started the athletes on their way to the tape Saturday at the P. A. A. invitational meet on the Berkeley oval, has nothing but words of praise for the performers from the East who vied with the Olympic Club tracksters for honors.

Christie got all wound up yesterday afternoon and here is what he had to say:

"The Eastern teams were not overburdened with athletes but the quality was there. They were defeated by the Los Angeles Athletic Club a week ago due to the fact that the 'Winged O' team cut into the points that otherwise would have been theirs. They also were handicapped by some questionable decisions on the part of the Southern officials, judging from reports of all sides.

"Further," Walter continued, "they out here were run without a blemish stated before the meet that they did not feel like running, that their legs were tired, and this is exactly the same thing which our boys have contending when they go east. The long trail ride, lack of exercise, the change of water, different style food and the cooking thereof undoubtedly reduces the ability of a man to do his best work in the athletic line. The visitors also had to face an extremely stiff program, having the Junior meet one day and the Senior meet the next. This lack of rest on the part of the athletes, the undoing of the greatest athlete ever. With their energy and vitality all gone they went through the meets gamely, all of them, and without a whimper.

The California varsity baseball team will arrive in San Francisco either Friday or Saturday from Japan, having completed their tour in the Orient, which according to L. A. Nichols, graduate manager of the Berkeley institution, was a success from all points of view. The team was accompanied on its journey by Assistant Graduate Manager Ray Cortelyou and Ward Shaefer, the baseball manager.

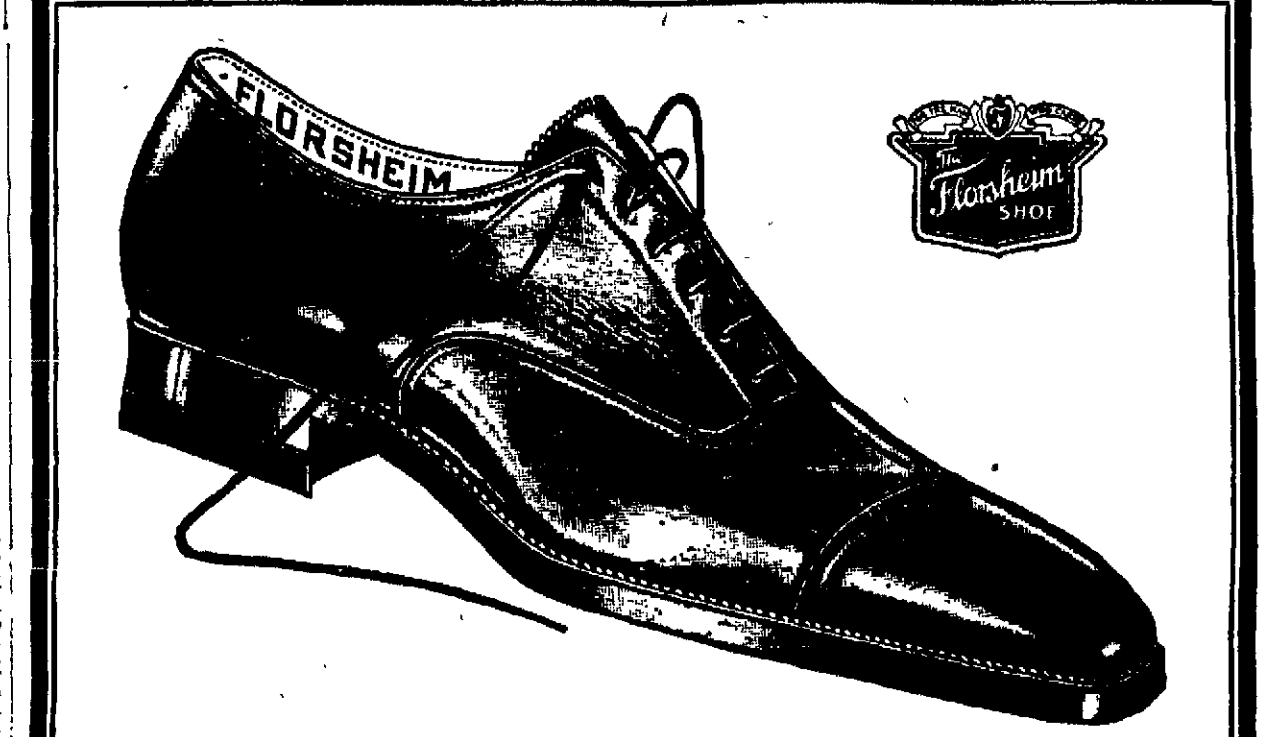

The football schedule, according to Nichols, is almost completed, and will be given out for publication within a few days. Just now a controversy over the date of the Nevada game is causing not a little bit of trouble, it being necessary to switch some of the other games around to make room for the Sagebrush team.

Despatches from the south have it that Bob Weaver, president of the A. A. U., is before long going to launch a plan whereby the combined track teams of the University of California, the University of Southern California, and Stanford University will be given a chance to meet the Oxford-Cambridge universities team this month in the East.

Weaver's plan, it appears, is to have the meet staged in Pasadena at Pasadena field, but just how the northern universities will look upon this plan is not known.

Abe Espinosa Shoots Record Golf At the New Berkeley Links

Abe Espinosa shattered the record for the new Berkeley golf course Monday when he turned in a 35 card for the nine holes. The previous record was 33 and was made by John Black. Espinosa was playing in a foursome. Abe made the four rounds of the nine holes in 141. His card showed 38-35-33-36 for his four trips. This is the best score ever shot over the 36 holes at Berkeley.

VERNON WOSNAK, 5375 Princeton St., Melrose

Vernon says: "Nothing to it. Altogether I worked about four or five hours. Some people taking 6-day papers were easy to get orders from, because I told them The Oakland Tribune gave them a big Sunday paper included for only 85c a month.

The Black Beauty is some swell wheel. My sister is working now for one of the girls' wheels. I told my chum about it and he wants one, too."

MANUEL SILVERIA, 1882 5th St., Oakland

Manuel says: "The first few calls I made I felt discouraged, but I told my father that I was just going to keep trying. It was dead easy after that. Everybody admitted The Tribune was a good newspaper and the best value, and then when I told them I was working for a famous Black Beauty $65.00 wheel, they were glad to give me an order.

"Thanks very much for the bike. It sure is a dandy. I am going to help my brother get one of these wheels, too."

HENRY PENNING, Mira Vista, Richmond

Henry says: "Gee, I am so happy! It wasn't hard to get my Black Beauty wheel. I just told all my friends I was working for a Black Beauty wheel offered by The Tribune, and how good a paper The Oakland Tribune was, and I had no trouble in quickly getting 25 orders.

"Thanks very much for the wheel."

PORTUGUESE GIVE DRAMA TO ASSIST FAMINE STRICKEN

Play Feature of Convention of Colony Being Held This Week.

Nominations and election of officers occupied the entire business sessions of the twenty-first annual convention of the Sociedade Portuguesa Rainha Santa Isabel, which is in session at the Native Sons' hall this week. The elections were not completed until late this afternoon. Exemplification of the ritual of the order conducted by the incumbent supreme officers required the business session yesterday afternoon and in the evening the delegates, together with the guests, witnessed the local Portuguese colony, attended the Portuguese historical drama, "O Filipe de Vilhena," which was produced for the benefit of the famine-stricken people of the Cape Verde islands.

The auditorium theater was filled with the audience which attended last night's performance. Committee workers were today preparing financial reports of the amount made at the performance and working for the speedy dispatch of the money to the islands.

The retiring supreme officers of the order will be feted tonight at the Hotel Oakland at a banquet which will be in charge of Mrs. Anna C. Martin, secretary to the supreme board of directors. Business sessions tomorrow will be occupied with the approval of the reports of retiring officers and introduction and discussion of new business of the convention.

Tomorrow evening will see the close of the convention with public initiation ceremonies in the ballroom of Hotel Oakland, followed by a grand ball which will be attended by hundreds of local members of the society. The ball will be held in the ivory ball room just following the initiation ceremonies.

Janitor's Ban On Sign Stirs Pastor's Ire

A colored evangelist, a colored city hall janitor, and the latter ruling on church sign, created a stir in the city council this morning when Rev. J. Gordon McPherson, the "Black Billy Sunday," protested to Commissioners Lawrence, Edwards and Carter about his treatment concerning a big canvas banner in front of a colored Baptist church on Popular street.

The Rev. J. Gordon McPherson applied to the city council for permission to erect the banner. The matter was in the mayor's department. Through some inadvertence Al Lawrence, the colored head janitor at the city hall, is said to have been asked to "look into the matter."

According to the evangelist, Al Lawrence notified him today that the latter "regretted that the sign could not be put up."

"When I lay a matter before the city council of Oakland," protested the evangelist, "why should I get called up by a janitor? Is he running the city hall?"

"Is he to decide matters of policy? I have shaken the hand of Theodore Roosevelt. Now I am being told the law by a janitor. Does the Council do its business through its janitors?"

The trade evangelist was finally calmed by the commissioners, who promised to have a formal communication on the subject without the participation of any janitor.

Bootlegger Round-up Ordered by Police

Louis Kirsch and J. P. Thompson were detailed last night by Captain of Police Frank Lynch to work in plain clothes, rounding up bootleggers and violators of the red light abatement act. Under the new ruling of the chief of police, each captain will be held responsible for his district. If he thinks it necessary to have men working in plain clothes, he is at liberty to detail as many men as he sees fit to handle the situation.

Allendale District Asks Branch of Public Library

The library trustees last night received a petition with more than 1,000 signatures from residents of the Allendale, Laurel, Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton Junior high school districts asking that a branch library be organized in Allendale. It was moved to forward the petition to the council in connection with its consideration of the library budget.

Because the rent of the room used for the Timond branch library has been repeatedly raised in the past year, the trustees are casting about for a larger and better quarters for the branch. Property owners in that district who have suitable properties will be requested to confer with members of the board.

W. H. Williams of Berkeley made the defendant in a damage suit for $25,000 filed today by Dan Pinidori on behalf of his 10-year-old son, Martin Pinidori, as the result of an automobile accident last May. Pinidori says his son was crossing Ilwaco street, between Milvia and Grove streets, when Williams' machine ran over him and broke his leg, besides inflicting numerous bruises and abrasions. He claims Williams was exceeding the speed limit and drove carelessly and negligently.

Local Committees Complete Plans for Entertainment of Visitors.

The first of the special trains, carrying delegates to the annual convention of the International Association of Lions Clubs, which convenes in Oakland Tuesday, July 19, is on its way.

Clubs from Washington, D. C., Baltimore, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and other eastern cities, are about the big special. Meanwhile local arrangements for the program of fun and entertainment are being rapidly completed.

The general committee met last night at the Hotel Oakland and it was announced Commander Glasford of the twelfth naval district with headquarters in San Francisco, would be one of the convention speakers. Commander Glasford is a member of the modern navy. It was Glasford who was one of the few American naval officers who witnessed the sinking of the Lusitania and will tell the Lions of this famous sea battle.

BANK CHIEF TO TALK.
Charles F. Stern, principal speaker at the luncheon on Wednesday, July 14, following the convention, will discuss the nation.

The baby den of Lions that of Pomona, California, organized on July 5 will attend the convention in a large number.

The Sacramento Den has arranged to distribute California fruit to the visiting delegates while the Fresno club has prepared "prize packages" for the visitors.

Down in San Jose the Lions are ready to greet the caravan of automobiles, carrying the visiting Lions on their "round the bay" trip, Wednesday, July 20. The San Jose clubs will meet the visitors at the county line on the San Mateo border. A band and a parade of flowers and blossoms, will be used in the welcoming. In the beautiful park comprising the grounds of the Hotel Oakland, an open air supper will be served.

San Mateo, too, is on the tip of expectancy awaiting the roar of the lions. The club will enjoy an outdoor luncheon on Wednesday en route to San Jose.

An additional afternoon and evening automobile trip through Alameda county and Contra Costa counties is now being arranged by a committee, headed by W. E. Strel.

The roster of delegates is appearing on the reservation lists of the local clubs.

Among the delegates from out of town will be: H. S. Hansen, president of the Waterloo, Iowa, Lions club; and Mrs. W. W. Patten and son, John S. Patten, of Bead, president of the International Association of Lions Clubs, with Mrs. Jones, all from Denver. H. G. Perce, delegate from Memphis, Tenn., with Mrs. Perce, G. G. Ordway, secretary-treasurer of the Amarillo, Texas, with Mrs. Ordway, also Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cudington from Amarillo, Texas; Clarke T. McGonigle, Cleveland, Ohio; Leonard H. Huff, delegate from Oak Park, Ill., an ex-Oakland; Dr. D. C. Stocking, Rockford, Ill.; J. P. Patten and son, John S. Patten, of Bead, district governor of the Lions clubs of Ohio, delegate from Dayton. There are also four other delegates from Dayton and all are bringing their wives.

Water Dog Fights Snake, Both Slain

Each with a vice hold on the other, a battle between a water snake and a "water dog" was witnessed by Superintendent of Parks Lee S. Kerfoot while spending the weekend at Gard-by-the-sea. Both jaws of the water dog held tightly the lower jaw of the snake, while the upper jaw of the water dog was clamped in the mouth of the snake. After he had used them, Kerfoot states, they released their hold on one another and both relaxed and died after a fight that must have consumed hours.

WARE WASTE AND WEAR WELL!

Human Bodies Are Poisoned by Their Own Waste. Most Illnesses Are Preventable.

The human body has to be heated and fine foods burned inside the body produce much waste. All this waste should be removed from the body regularly, thoroughly, daily, by the eliminative organs—which are the bowels, kidneys, skin, and to some extent the lungs. These should act in harmony—if the bowels are inactive extra effort is required of the others, which easily become deranged. Many medicines will force bowels, and temporarily but the after-effects are harmful. Many remedies are advertised, some of which have proven year after year to be reliable, efficient, and without harmful action or effect. Take Beecham's Pills for example. For over 70 years Beecham's has been a household word all over the world. 70 years of use by all sorts of folks, men, women and even children, have proven first, that Beecham's Pills do what is claimed for them; second, that they are harmless, do not produce bad effects, and are in fact a natural, unartificial action. Other medicines, like those contained in Beecham's Pills assist Nature, act mildly, persuade and hence produce no harmful effects. It is common to find families in which Beecham's have been used by several generations, their hands handed down from father to son and from mother to daughter.

That's the best possible recommendation for any remedy. Every druggist sells Beecham's, is glad to do so because he knows that their reputation has been won by merit.

Adventists Declare War On Sunday Closing Laws

"All such legislation is opposed to true Americanism and the principles of liberty upon which our government is founded. All true lovers of liberty should resent such an invasion of their rights."

This was the way in which W. F. Martin, field secretary of the Pacific Religious Liberty Association, characterized the effort to enforce Sunday closing legislation in a talk at today's 11 o'clock service in the pavilion at the Seventh Day Adventist camp meeting at Fruitvale avenue and East Sixteenth street.

"The agitation for Sunday legislation in California is part of a campaign being waged throughout the United States by the National Religious Association and the Lord's Day Alliance," the speaker declared.

BLUE LAWS CRITICIZED.
Speaking further on the subject of "Blue Laws," Martin declared: "A Sunday closing law was introduced into the California legislature two years ago, and after being considered by the assembly, was defeated. The legislature has since then started a campaign in the state to get their ideas incorporated into city statutes in every possible way. They seemed sufficient to the voters."

"During the two years a large number of Sunday closing ordinances have been introduced into different municipalities, and their adoption has been urged upon city councils and boards of trustees and supervisors. The last and most spectacular of these efforts was at San Francisco, where a strong endeavor was put forth to secure the passage of a Sunday closing ordinance. However, after long and often-times heated arguments by both sides, the Board of Supervisors finally rejected the measure."

DEFEAT IN LEGISLATURE.
"The latest session of the legislature considered petitions throughout the state and 135,000 signatures against the proposed measure were secured. This measure was also defeated by a large majority in the senate. Such history should be a record of Sunday law efforts in other parts of the country."

"It will be interesting to note the following statement reported to have been made by the Lord's Day Alliance: 'We propose by legislation to make it easier for people to go to church. In other words, we shall try to close the doors of the churches and the doors of the theatres, the concert halls, the amusement parks, the bathing beaches, etc. We shall seek to restrict the sale of gasoline for pleasure automobiles and urge other measures that will stop Sunday automobile and joy riding. Excursion steamers rides on Sunday will be opposed by us on the ground that they are unnecessary to the moral welfare of Christian America.'

OBJECT OF CAMPAIGN.
"Of course, we shall back no law that would compel a man or a woman to attend church. But we believe that if we take away a man's motor car his golf sticks, his Sunday newspaper, his horses, his pleasure steamships, amusement houses, and parks, and prohibit him from playing outdoor games or witnessing field sports, he naturally will drift back to church. We shall seek to eliminate the huge Sunday newspaper, the motion picture, the public libraries or the art galleries should remain open on Sunday."

"These words very well represent the aim of the Lord's Day Alliance. Seventh Day Adventists are opposed to all legal restrictions that tend to bind the conscience. Seventh Day Adventists believe in keeping the seventh day for the Sabbath, but we do not believe in forcing by law their religion upon other people. All such legislation is opposed to true Americanism and the principles of liberty upon which our government is founded. Each man has a right to choose his day of worship, and should be protected in that right. No one should be restricted in keeping a day, not known to be Sunday, for doing an honest deed on any day. Such legislation as this would be absolute tyranny. All true lovers of liberty should resent such an invasion of their rights."

BIBLE STUDY URGED.
F. C. Gilbert yesterday gave a talk on the importance of a careful reading and understanding of the Bible at the early morning service at 6 o'clock. He declared a knowledge of the Bible to be one of the most important matters having to do with the life of individuals of today. Higher criticism and evolution theories have destroyed faith in the Bible as the inspired word of God.

CITY HEADS MEET TO PRUNE BUDGET TO FIT TAX RATE

$2,000,000 Must Be Lopped Off Estimates of Funds Needed to Run City.

The first actual meeting of the city commissioners relative to the new budget was planned for late this afternoon, when Commissioners Baccus, Colbourne and Carter were to discuss their ideas for shrinking the demands of all the departments into the $2.44 tax rate pledged by the council.

Fully $2,000,000 will have to be cut from the estimates before it can be done.

The total askings of all the city departments, without including funds whose totals are vague, come to $6,275,347.80. In computing the total, however, there are several sums yet to be added. The budget is based on a 2.5 cent levy for the "cash basis" fund. The complete total will be, roughly, $6,500,000.

TWO MILLION CUT.
Based on an assessed valuation of $168,000,000, a $2.44 levy would bring $4,133,600. The city departments which want nearly $6,500,000 may have to get along with $4,133,600, it is said.

The largest demand of all, that of the school department, may not be cut very much. The augmented school population makes necessary an additional number of teachers who are bound to cost $200,000 more in salaries than last year.

Mayor Davis is planning a merger system whereby economies may be made in the department of public affairs.

According to the Mayor, the park, recreation, library and purchasing departments might be concentrated under an executive secretary who could keep watch over expenditures of all these departments.

CHECK NEEDED.
"We have no check over these departments at present," says the Mayor. They spend what they please, and in the manner they please. For instance, the city paid more than $100,000 for a band stand that should not have cost more than $15,000."

Practically every department in the city government has asked more than it asked last year, and very much more than it received. Some of the departments ask double what was received last year. The school department, in addition to its large budget, asks $440,000 for "school support," as additional compensation for teachers. Admissions from the commissioners indicate that the school support fund will not amount to much this year.

Many officials at Mayor Davis' office are all right in the budget field but rather in the way in a park. Navy officials at Marine Corps Park offered Oakland a flock of old Spanish cannon if Oakland will take good care of them. Berkeley recently turned down a similar offer.

REPLY TO LETTER FROM THE MAYOR.
In reply to a letter from the mayor asking whether the board of directors for the parks of Oakland, the board returned a negative. Cannon, they asserted, are all right on the battlefield but rather in the way in a park.
